BLACK COED ATTACKED:

Interracial Romance Sparks Violence On Marietta Campus

By C.A. BRYCE JR.
COLUMBUS BUREAU

A 23-year-old Marietta College coed who has been threatened with gang rape and who was assaulted with a brick last week in her dormitory building told The CALL & POST Monday a climate of "racial paranoia" exists on the small Southern Ohio campus.

Jean Thomas, of Columbus, one of four Black women students whose names appeared on a mysterious "rape hit list," was struck on the head by a brick which was either dropped or thrown from above as she and two companions descended a flight of stairs in the Marietta Hall dormitory. The incident occurred about 6:25 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 15, the day before classes were dismissed for Christmas holiday.

Thomas said neither she nor her companions saw her assailant. She was treated at Marietta Memorial Hospital and held there overnight for observation before returning home to Columbus.

The brick-throwing incident is believed connected with a racist "hate" campaign being waged by a mysterious letter writer who has expressed violent objections to interracial dating on the campus and has threatened to rape four Black coeds in reprisal.

The tense climate surfaced during the last week of November when a Black male student, Michael Pope, received a letter objecting to Pope's relationship with a white female student. Other black-white romances were mentioned in the letter, and the writer, who indicated that he (or she) represented others, named four Black coeds as targets for gang rape.

A few days later, Thomas, who was mentioned in the letter to Pope, also received a threatening note. The coed said she was sitting alone in the lounge of her dormitory when someone pushed the door open from the outside and threw a piece of paper inside.

By the time other residents of the dorm came in answer to Thomas's calls, the mysterious letter writer had vanished.

Thomas recalled that the note she received said only, "You are first Gene (sic) Thomas." It was signed "G.D." (Other letters have been signed "Grand Dragon.")

ONCE UPON A SCHOOL BOARD

(See Story On Page 8B)

After the threat was delivered to Thomas, campus security was tightened and she and three other Black coeds were given protection by fellow students and campus security guards.

The tightened security did not stop the harassment, however. Thomas told of receiving a threatening telephone call from an anonymous woman and said several

BLEAK HOLIDAYS

Feared By Chronically Ill Evicted Mother Of 2 Teens

By JOHN B. COMBS

Whether she is behind with her rent as the landlord contends or not, a 35-year-old chronically ill, penniless Eastside woman whose household belongings were set into the streets during a downpour of rain mixed with sleet last week, she desperately needs immediate help.

Juanita Greathouse, who was served an eviction notice by the Sandefur Real Estate Management, 935 E. Broad St., while confined to St. Ann Hospital on Dec. 13, was forced out into the cold the morning following her release from the hospital. Mrs. Greathouse and her two teenage children, according to witnesses, literally had their beds removed from under them by a deputy sheriff and employees of the real estate firm at 10 a.m. Wednesday, Dec. 14.

When this reporter arrived at the apartment building, 121-125 Wilson Ave., the Greathouse's furniture, clothing and appliances were lined along the front of the apartment between the sidewalk and curbstones. The furniture was partially covered with plastic drop clothes. Mrs. Greathouse's 15 year old daughter, Janet, was leaning against the apartment building wearing summer slacks and a high school jacket. With tears streaming down her cheeks and constantly gnawing on her fingernails, said she was trying to keep a watch on the furniture to prevent it from being taken by thieves. She said her mother had gone to see Barbara Coles

A SAD STORY—Mrs. Juanita Greathouse, homeless, penniless and chronically ill, relates her pathetic story to newsmen Bill Pepper, WBNS-TV 10 outside the apartment building of which she had just been evicted.

COLUMBUS URBAN LEAGUE CHIEF FOR 33 YEARS

Nation Mourns Death Of Nimrod B. Allen

Nimrod Booker Allen, a standard bearer for Columbus race relations for over 40 years, was eulogized in impressive final rites by Bishop Hubert N. Robinson, Bishop of the 4th Episcopal District AME Church, during funeral services at Bethel AME Church Tuesday.

Allen, 91, died last Thursday at St. Anthony

Hospital, following a fall and broken hip suffered in October. After he was released from the hospital, his condition worsened and he was re-admitted and succumbed during confinement.

His accomplishments were many. From 1921-1954, he served as executive secretary of the Columbus Urban League and founded the Frontiers International, Inc., a black service organization, in 1936, which now boasts branches in over 100 American cities.

The beginning was not easy for the Girard, Ala. native, one of 12 born to former slave parents.

Acknowledging parental support, Allen readily admitted that his father, the Rev. George Allen and mother, Phoebe Harvey Allen, both born slaves, instilled in him and his brothers and sisters a love of education and a desire to move to the North.

Graduating from the local black elementary school in Girard, where his father was principal, Allen was unable to attend high school. However, he did enroll at Wilberforce University, because he proved to be capable of the work required.

He received his B.A. degree from Wilberforce and was awarded an honorary M.A. from the school in 1920.

After graduation, he entered Yale University, studying social work at Yale's divinity school from which he received a degree in 1951 and was also

Black Dominated Union Dynasty Seen Crumbling

With two top officials facing possible indictment for allegedly mishandling funds of Local 423, and a civil suit seeking to recover certain union monies reputedly converted to personal use by key members being filed in the U.S. District Court, it would appear Tuesday that the mighty black dominated dynasty was crumbling.

KBLE BREAKS GROUND TO START HISTORIC PROJECT

By CHARLES BRIGGS

An illustrious cross section of civil servants, business leaders and dignitaries from across the nation joined KBLE Ohio, Inc. officials to participate in ground breaking ceremonies Thursday, which marked the start of construction of the first black-owned and controlled cable television system in a major market in the nation.

Because of the history making significance of KBLE's efforts to Ohio and the nation, Thomas E. Wheeler, executive vice president of the National Cable Television Association, Washington, D.C. journeyed here to help launch the network.

"We welcome KBLE as our newest member," the Columbus native said, "and pledge the support of the Association's resources to move this new system ahead."

"I'm proud to note that many 'firsts' in the cable industry have come right from my home town of Columbus and I am happy to add KBLE to the list," Wheeler concluded.

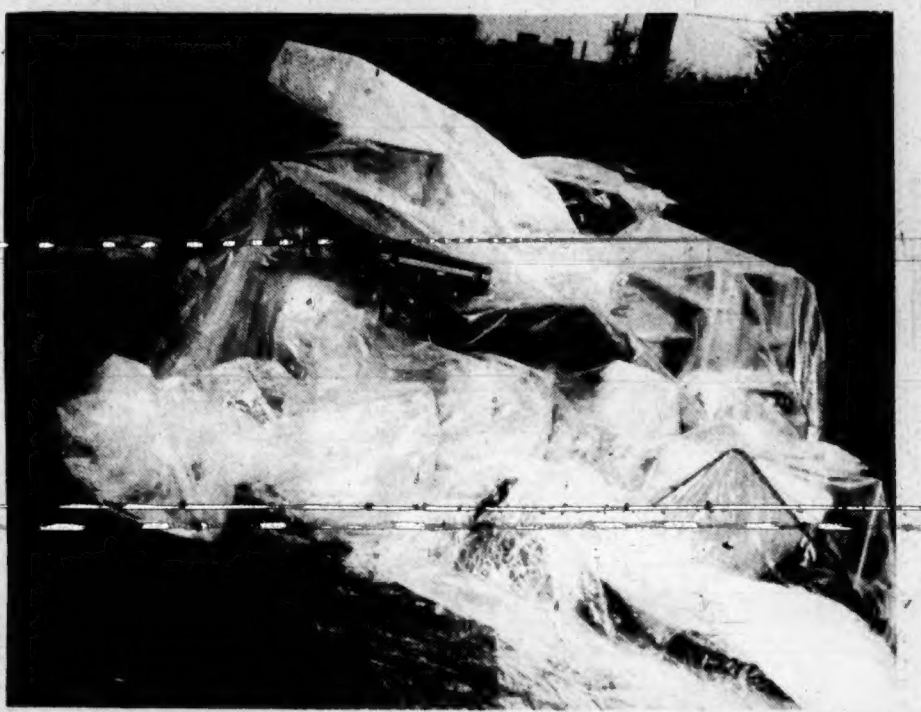

The man who provided most of the impetus during the years of red tape and setbacks, to KBLE president William Johnson, was Columbus Public Utilities Commission director, Robert Newland.

"I am extremely pleased that after more than 3 years of waiting that the only black-owned and black controlled cable system is finally a reality," Newland said.

"It will certainly fill a vast communications void in the community. I congratulate Bill Johnson and the community for their diligent work and hope it will all come to a pleasant end," Newland continued.

Brisk wintry weather failed to dampen the high spirits of Johnson and his MESSAGE FROM SCROOGE—Juanita Greathouse, formerly of 121 Wilson Ave., came from St. Ann's Hospital Dec. 12, just in time for Christmas. And just in time to get thrown out on the street, evicted along with her two teenaged children for allegedly being in arrears on the rent. The eviction notice was served by the Sandefur Real Estate Management Co., 935 E. Broad St. Agents of the real estate firm and sheriff's deputies left the Greathouse belongings at curbside, just as they were photographed.

KBLE's BIG THREE—Columbus Mayor Tom Moody, KBLE president William Johnson and Ohio Governor James A. Rhodes huddled Thursday to discuss plans for the successful future of KBLE Ohio, Inc., the first black-owned and controlled cable television system in a major national market. The complicated looking map Johnson is holding is a layout of the residential boundary lines to be served by the network. Telecast territory will be bounded on the north by Innes/McCutcheon Rds., on the east by Steiner Rd., on the south by the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks and on the west by I-71. The firm has a potential market of from 25,000 to 30,000 households with about 90,000 residents as a viewing public. The other three cable systems operating locally have failed to put even the slightest dent into the business potential of the area, leaving a cable TV void in the black community. - BEN CHANDLER PHOTO.

Handicapped Kids Enjoy Yule Party

On Dec. 16, the technicians and civilian employees of the Ohio National Guard hosted a Christmas Party at the Beightler Armory, 2525 W. Granville Road, for over 100 children from First Avenue School, of the Franklin County Program for the Mentally Retarded.

This is the 11th year that the Ohio National Guard has hosted a Christmas Party for mentally retarded children. Captain Donald Vaguera, information officer for the Ohio National Guard, said that this party "brings out the best of Christmas in everyone when they are doing something for these children."

Sgt. Bev Price, coordinator of the party, noted that Santa Claus arrived shortly after noon and provided each child with a personalized gift. Lunch was provided by local vendors.

Pauline Kitchton, principal of First Avenue School, said "that without the support of the National Guard, there may not have been a party for her students. She said the Ohio National Guard knows the meaning of Christmas, and is helping to provide the mentally retarded students of her school with a better understanding of the Christmas tradition."

Ridgway Home Personnel Sends Yule Greeting To All Financial Supporters

As has become customary, the Isabelle Ridgway Home for The Aged, Inc., through the medium of The CALL & POST, acknowledges the monetary contributions of organizations and individuals who have made donations to the nursing home during the past six months.

"It is especially fitting that we acknowledge these gifts now, during the Christmas and Chanukkah season," Richard Blackberry, administrator of the Ridgway Home said this week.

Blackberry said the nursing home, one of the most modern and best-equipped such facilities in the county, is on "a sound financial footing, thanks in great part to the enlightened generosity of civic-minded members of the community."

"We like to emphasize the fact that the Isabelle Ridgway Home is a non-profit, community-based institution," the administrator said. "It exists not just for the benefit of its inhabitants, or for the enrichment of its managers and staff, but for the betterment of the general quality of life in Columbus."

Blackberry said contributions to the home were like "the community giving itself a gift."

In addition to the financial contributors listed below, Blackberry said he wanted to thank all of those "who have contributed to the continued success and viability of the Isabelle Ridgway Home by other than monetary means, either through volunteer work or by contributions of supplies, material and needed items."

Among those who have made monetary contributions to the Isabelle Ridgway Home for The Aged during the past six months are the following, listed in alphabetical order:

Alla Baba Court No. 75, Daughters of Isis; Mrs. Alma Anderson; Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Columbus Alumnae Chapter; Mrs. Thelma English; Friendship Baptist Church; Girl Friends, Inc., Columbus Chapter; IBPOE of W. ## United Way Gives Black Groups Nearly $1 Million For 1978 Expenditures

United Way agencies providing important social services to the black community received increased funding for their 1978 operations when the Board of Trustees met last week to approve allocation increases, ranging from 8 percent to over 21 percent.

The agencies receiving increases are: Central Community House, $158,165.00; Columbus Urban League, $220,666; Hilltop Civic Council, $77,307; Salesian Inner City Boys Club, $89,500; South Side Settlement House, $137,488; Milo Grogan Boys' Club, $42,365; and Neighborhood House, $165,798.

Three additional agencies serving the black community are participating in United Way's new Planning, Evaluation and Allocations process, a pilot project designed to permit multi-year funding commitments. They are St. Stephen's Community House, the J. Ashburn Jr. Youth Center and Ohio Ave. Day Care. Each will receive allocations early in 1978.

Overall, United Way allocated a record of $6,678,000 to 65 direct service member agencies for 1978 operations.

United Way President Robert S. Crane, Jr. said this year's total allocations are a 10.2 percent increase over 1976 and represent the largest increase, both in terms of percentage and dollars, in local United Way History.

ROBERT S. CRANE JR., United Way president

He said the record allocations were possible because of "our community's generous response to the 1977 United Way Campaign, which went over the top and set new giving records."

"Here's where some Ford-built cars get to go through some of the toughest tests they got to go through."

Right here is where some Ford, Mercury and Lincoln cars face some of the toughest conditions a car will ever have to face...anywhere in the world.

Tough Test #1.

Push a button and a giant fan starts blowing winds up to a hundred and forty miles an hour. Now when we add water to the wind, we got us a hurricane! It's a tough test for water leaks: around the doors...around the windows...around the trunk...around the hood.

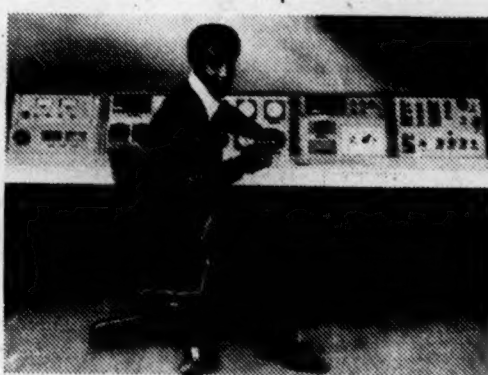

"Chatter—chatter—chatter—chatter."

Tough Test #2.

Push a Cold Button and the temperature drops to zero degrees. In just a short time you and the test car are sitting at the North Pole freezing your fenders off. This is how we test the operation of

The Dunbar Dance Company of the Paul Laurence Dunbar Afro-American Cultural Arts Center is sponsoring a Christmas party, Friday, Dec. 23 at the Good Times Lounge, corner of E. Long St. and Cleveland Ave., 9 p.m. until 11?

The gala will feature the newest group on the scene in jazz-fusion, the Seeds of Fulfillment (SOF), a dynamic instrumental group that's been featured regularly on weekends at popular niteries.

The Yule affair will include fun, games and a local deejay to spin records, in addition to the live sounds of SOF.

Everyone is cordially invited to come out and welcome the holiday season with the Dunbar Dance Company and Seeds of Fulfillment.

SOUL TRAIN QUESTS - BRICK will guest for the second time on "Soul Train", Saturday, Dec. 24, 1 p.m., WTVN-TV 6. Rising to national prominence last year with their smash hit "Dazz" and a gold album, "Good High," BRICK is back again with a new album expected to reach platinum status by Christmas and a series of hits, i.e., "Dusko," "Ain't Gonna Hurt Nobody," and "We Don't Wanna Sit Down."

COSI Slates Winter Fair; Showing of Sugar Bowl Game

COSI (Center of Science and Industry), 280 E. Broad St. will be open regular hours Monday, Dec. 26 and Monday, Jan. 2.

COSI's fifth annual 4-H Winter Fair will take place December 28 through the 30th. Special events this year include "The Showplace," with a program that varies each day of the Fair. "The Showplace" will feature a wide range of hands-on participatory activities including a sick plant clinic (with a "plant sitting" service while you visit the rest of COSI), a program on heat and energy conservation for the home, a do-it-yourself nature crafts activity, and samplings from the Health Activity Project (HAP) from the Lawrence Hall of Science.

In addition, this year's Winter Fair will again feature a wide variety of workshops put on by 4-H agents, the COSI Education staff, and others. The workshops, which require nominal materials fees, are on such topics as candy making, babysitting, model rocketry, terrarium building, crystal gardens, caring for rabbits and guinea pigs, and candlemaking. Call COSI for details.

On Monday, Jan. 2, COSI will feature the Ohio State-Alabama Sugar Bowl football game beginning at 1 p.m., and the Rose Bowl Parade at 11 a.m. on its giant Advent TV screen. Visitors will also be able to enjoy all of the exhibits including the Magic Mountain Railroad and "Star of Bethlehem" planetarium. COSI will be closed on both Christmas Day and New Years.

For information call 221-6361.

Evicted Mother Of 2 Teens

at Sandefur, who had the eviction notice served on them, to try and retrieve a check issued by HUD to subsidize the Greathouses' rent. Upon her mother's return, the obviously ailing dejected woman, said the $250 HUD check should have paid her rent in full. However, she said Mrs. Greathouse would not allow her to see the check and endorse it.

Mrs. Greathouse, who said her husband deserted her when her teenage son, John Jr., was three months old in Chicago, said she got behind in her rent because her $176 welfare check had been stolen several times while she was hospitalized. She said $76 of the check was used to purchase $130 in Food Stamps with the rest being used to try to keep us going.

Mrs. Greathouse said she has been experiencing serious difficulty since being forced to quit work in 1973 because of illness. She was employed at the Ohio Die Casting Co., when she became ill and was admitted to University Hospital. After undergoing a series of examinations she was found to be suffering from a heart condition and the dreaded disease, Sickle Cell Anemia. Since then she has spent more time in a hospital than out, she recalled.

the eviction, emphatically denied that Mrs. Greathouse was not behind in her rent. She said rent had not been paid since August. That was the first payment since June, she insisted. She invited this reporter to come to her office and check the files, or to secure the Municipal Court record of the eviction hearing.

Coles said Mrs. Greathouse told the court referee that she did not wish to remain living at the Wilson Ave. apartment. She also maintained that the eviction was done "strictly in a legal manner."

Asserting that Mrs. Greathouse has "caused me many headaches," Coles said "we have given her more chances than we have given any other tenant."

She acknowledged that they had received the HUD check subsidizing Mrs. Greathouse's rent, but insisted that it belong to Sandefur Real Estate and not by the tenant.

Mrs. Greathouse, in the meantime, found a stranger who turned out to be a Good Samaritan, Charles Holt, 100 N. Ohio Ave., happened to drive past the Wilson Ave. apartment and out of obvious curiosity, stopped when he spotted the crowd around the row of household items.

Mrs. Barbara Talley, 1777 Kenview Rd., a longtime friend of the Greathouse family, informed Holt that a lady and her children had been evicted.

Holt, appearing to have been severely shocked, criticized the onlookers for not going to the woman's rescue, saying he was new in town but he would not allow that family to go without shelter. He not only invited Mrs. Greathouse to "come to my house and stay as long as you want to," but he offered to pay to have her property moved to his home. He had recently purchased a 10 room home and it is more than adequate to accommodate the Greathouse family, he said.

In contrast with Holt's Good Samaritan role, observers branded Mrs. Coles as a "Scrooge dressed in woman's clothing."

Tuesday during an interview in the spacious old mansion, Mrs. Greathouse said Mr. Holt and his wife had been "very kind to us." "They have strived to make us feel at home," she added. However, she continued, "no one else has lifted a finger to help us."

She said that did not include Mrs. Talley and a woman she identified as Bernice Harris.

She said that she has been pleading everyday with the County Welfare Dept. for assistance, but all I've gotten was a run-around. One day they would refer me to one Case Worker and the next day they'd refer me to another one," she said, adding: "name of a Case Worker who no one there knew when I went there the other day."

Recalling that Christmas is almost here and I have only 50 cents to my name," Mrs. Greathouse said she could see her way through if she could only receive some emergency fund from the Welfare Dept. She feels that the Welfare Dept. is refusing to help her because she receives a $130 supplementary (SSI) check monthly from Social Security. However, she lamented, neither the welfare or the Social Security check is due until the first of January.

Returning to her eviction, she said Ms. Coles and the Sandefur firm had been hard on her every since she complained to the Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority about the rundown condition of the Wilson Ave. apartment building. The CMHA ordered Sandefur to repair and paint up the building. After that she said Sandefur even evicted a woman tenant who had been friendly toward her.

Mrs. Greathouse charged that CMHA will not rent her an apartment because another woman by the name of Juanita Greathouse moved out owing CMHA $128. They have tried to collect the money from her, even though the Social Security number on the bill is not the same as hers, she said.

She also charged that Sandefur employees broke several pieces of her furniture while moving it out, and that someone made off with a television and stereo set from the truck transporting her belongings to 100 N. Ohio Ave.

Although the Holts are providing her with cooking facility, she said that with only 50 cents and two children to feed, she fears that this will be an "awful bleak Christmas" for the Greathouse family.

To brighten this prospective bleak Christmas, Mrs. Greathouse and her two high school children, must rely upon the goodness of the community. Her acute financial crisis has left her at the mercy of the people. And the fact that she is hoping to undergo heart surgery as soon as possible, "is more than I can take," she commented.

There is no telephone in the Holt household, but this family is desperately in need and would sincerely appreciate anything anyone has to give. Someone even stole the children's shoes, she explained, as the interview closed.

Violence On Marietta Campus

other students have also been subjected to harassment.

Thomas said two white women students have also been harassed, one because she has dated a Black man and the other because she spoke out in support of the Black coeds at a student meeting.

One of the white girls, who has red hair, found a note which said, "The red head is dead," Thomas reported. The other, who said she had been a rape victim and called for Black and white students to cooperate in finding the source of the threats, found obscene messages written on her dormitory door the next day, Thomas said.

Thomas said the series of incidents has created a climate of paranoia that makes the 26 Blacks in the student body of approximately 1400 feel "completely isolated."

Although some white students and members of the all-white faculty have called for increased cooperation between members of the campus community, Thomas said most whites seemed unconcerned about the series of bizarre threats and incidents.

"Most of them seem like they could care less," Thomas said.

Although Marietta town police have been informed and are reportedly assisting campus security in the investigation, Thomas said she was not questioned by police after she was ambushed by the unseen brick-thrower.

Asked if she was afraid to return to the campus after the holiday break, Thomas admitted she was "nervous," but said she had only a few more credit hours to complete before becoming eligible for graduation and would try to stick it out.

As for other Black students, Thomas said they were all "concerned and upset." Some, she indicated, might not return to the campus.

Classes resume at Marietta College on Jan. 23.

Nation Mourns Death Of Nimrod B. Allen

the recipient of two honorary Doctor of Law degrees, one from Morris Brown University in 1953 and one from Monrovia College in Monrovia, Liberia in 1955.

Dr. Allen came to Columbus in 1915 to serve as executive secretary of the Spring St. YMCA and in 1917 left that job to take the position with the Urban League that was to make the name Nimrod B. Allen, legendary in Columbus for decades to come.

Serving the Urban League, for 33 years until his retirement in 1954, the diminutive Allen had a tremendous impact on Columbus and the nation.

Frank Lomax III, executive director of the Columbus Urban League, observed "There have been five directors in the Urban League's 60-year history. Dr. Allen probably made the biggest impact with his founding of the Frontiers of America which is still viable in many cities across the nation today."

A non-violent man, "Mr. Urban League" promoted the better part of his social action with the League through behind-the-scenes work in closed-door meetings where pressure was exerted by influential area residents.

While black and white sections in public places still offer limits to "Negroes" and jobs few, Dr. Allen through the Urban League worked to change things. Many color barriers were broken because of his tireless efforts.

One of the most important achievements was in the establishment of the first Columbus Plan, aimed at bringing together the central forces in the city - newspapers, police and ministers - to urge their cooperation in bringing about integration.

Through the Columbus Plan, racial overtones were eliminated from newspapers; a crime prevention program to stop blacks from being jailed was instituted and health clinics were started.

He created the Friendly Service Bureau, the nation's first crime prevention program which was later adopted by 90 other cities. It was organized as part of the Columbus Police Department.

In addition to his work in the field of integration, Dr. Allen found time to work with a number of groups and organizations.

He is a former member of the Board of Trustees of Wilberforce University and a member of the Wilberforce Development Committee.

Dr. Allen also held memberships in the Masons, Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, the Ohio Council of Alcoholism, Board of Trustees of the Frontiers International, Inc., of which he was president emeritus, and which he served for more than 10 years as executive secretary.

He was a charter member of the Board of Trustees of the Boys Club of Columbus and a former vice president of the Ohio Annual Conference Laymen's Organization.

Current executive director of the Columbus Urban League, Frank Lomax, upon notification of Dr. Allen's death, reflected, "Unfortunately, we frequently fail to express our appreciation or extend honors to those living persons who have made positive contributions toward the enrichment of our lives."

"Upon the sad occasion and finality of death, we hasten to present posthumous awards or grievously apologize to the memory of great persons and loved ones," Lomax continued.

"Dr. Allen is not to be counted among those whose real achievements, throughout a lifetime of service to his community and nation, were either overlooked or minimized."

Columbus residents can be comforted by the fact that the accolades and respect were given to Nimrod B. Allen during the time of his long life and they were given in well deserved abundance," Lomax concluded.

On his 90th birthday a year ago, a tree was planted in his name in Bicentennial Park and he was honored with proclamations from the Ohio General Assembly and Columbus City Council.

He was also honored by the OSU Black Studies program in July, received a gold record from the mayor of Nashville, Tenn., during the Frontiers International Convention and was honored locally and nationally on the eve of his retirement from the Urban League March 15, 1954.

Survivors include his sister, with whom he was residing at the time of death, Mrs. Bertha Allen Mason, 1715 E. Long St.; a daughter, Mrs. Phoebe Mattison; three grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

His wife, the late Clara Elberta Wilson Allen, whom he married in 1916, preceded him in death in 1965.

Following his funeral at Bethel AME Church, Dr. Allen's body was interred in the family plot in Green Lawn Cemetery.

In lieu of flowers, contributions are being sent to the Nimrod B. Allen Scholarship Fund, 1715 E. Long St., Columbus, 43203, for forwarding to Frontiers International, Inc., Philadelphia.

GOOD SAMARITAN - If Sandefur Management Co. sounds like a subsidiary of Scrooge & Marley Ltd., the man pictured above must certainly be the Good Samaritan. He is Charles Holt, of 100 N. Ohio Ave., who saw the Greathouse's gathered around their belongings and volunteered to help, opening his own home to them for temporary shelter and helping them to load their belongings on a truck for transport to a place for safekeeping.

Black Dominated Union Dynasty Seen Crumbling

The roof of the multi-million dollar John E. Scales Building, 620 Alum Creek Dr., sagging for the past several weeks under the heavy weight of FBI investigation, virtually collapsed this week with the announcement that Scales, the Business Manager and David Heller, president of the local were expected to be indicted by a federal grand jury.

Asst. U.S. Attorney John Palmer made the long expected announcement after FBI investigators filed papers in the U.S. District Court charging the local officials with illegally using $155,000 in union funds during the past five years.

Palmer was in San Francisco preparing for a case he is to try in January and could not be reached for comment Tuesday. However, Asst. U.S. Attorney William B. Hunt confirmed Palmer's statement in a CALL & POST interview.

He declined to say other than that "more evidence will be presented to the grand jury" but he would not speculate what the grand jury decision would be, he said.

In the meantime, in the class action suit filed Tuesday, the plaintiffs are seeking to recover about $16,000 in interest accumulated on the Local's Christmas Fund over a three year period and was allegedly split between Scales and the executive board.

The interest, according to the suit, was supposed to have been paid to members contributing to the Christmas Fund.

In the meantime, International Union officials were reportedly in Columbus Tuesday for the purpose of placing Local 423 in a trusteeship. Although the meeting was held behind closed doors, Scales was quoted on television stations as saying he welcomed a trusteeship to clear up the scandal.

Already pleading guilty to participating in conspiracy with union officials to bilk funds with phony medical claims is John Gore, vice president.

Other top officials linked with the conspiracy on one count each include, Lyle

Rivers, secretary-treasurer of the executive board William Smith, sergeant at arms and Scales' personal bodyguard, Sterling Burke, business agent, Joyce Brownfield, secretary to the executive board and Barbara Jones, a secretary for Dr. J.K. Smith, a prominent Eastside physician.

Eight union officials have previously pleaded guilty to conspiracy charges in connection with the shocking scandal, including Dr. Arthur E. Calloway, of 1093 E. Livingston Ave.

KBLE Breaks Ground To

colleagues in the pioneering project, as his wife, Gloria and partner Curtis D. Strozler proudly observed the proceedings.

Thanking city and state officials for their significant assistance, Johnson said he is seeking the support and cooperation of the total community.

"This is a unique opportunity for everyone to work in partnership for the financial benefit of the community," he said.

"The dozens of jobs and training opportunities that KBLE will provide will raise the consciousness and motivation of many of those minorities previously underutilized or unemployed in a manner that will be unmatched when contrasted to the thousands of dollars of federal, state or city manpower or welfare monies spent in this area," the young attorney and cable TV chief noted.

Included in the long list of dignitaries on hand for the historic celebration were Kline Roberts, president of the Columbus Area Chamber of Commerce, Mayor Tom Moody, U.S. Senator Howard M. Metzenbaum, U.S. Congressman Samuel Devine, and Ohio Dept. of Economic and Community Development chief James Kirk, who represented Governor James A. Rhodes.

Following the public ceremonies in the Mt. Vernon Plaza redevelopment area, the new home of KBLE, a reception was held at the University Club. KBLE officials have set mid-summer for the sign-on of and first telecast of their exciting new public service venture.

We're Building on a Solid Reputation

Mrs. D.A. Whittaker & Sons opened their funeral home in Columbus in 1905, beginning a long tradition of fine service to the community. Today the name is Diehl-Whittaker. Ownership changed in 1969, but the high standards long associated with the Whittaker name have been faithfully maintained. We are now building a beautiful new mortuary offering the finest modern facilities at the same location we have occupied for 72 years: 720 East Long Street

OSU TOPS WASH STATE LOUISVILLE TOURNEY BECKONS

Ohio State basketball team will meet the University of Georgia in the first game of the Louisville Invitational Tournament Wednesday, Dec. 28, at 7 p.m.

The second game will be between Louisville and LaSalle at 9 p.m. with the two winners meeting the following night for the title.

The Buckeyes extended their season record to five wins by defeating Cal Poly Pomona 90-63 and Washington State 79-73 in an overtime period. The Bucks are now 5-1 for the season. Herb Williams was the leading scorer in Cal Poly game with 17 points. Other Bucks in the double figures were Kelvin Ransey with 16, Ken Page 12 and Carter Scott 10.

The Bucks proved they could win on the road by knocking over Washington State 79-73 in an overtime period. After jumping to a 43-29 halftime lead, Ohio cooled off for the first six minutes of the second half to allow the Cougars to outscore them 20-1 and take a 49-44 lead.

With the shooting of Mike Cline and Williams, Ohio soon regained the lead with 8:15 remaining. With the score tied 67-67, Ransey missed an 18-footer to send the contest into overtime.

Co-Capt. Mike Cline led the Bucks in scoring with 21 points; Williams had 18, Ransey 14 and Jim Smith 10. The Buckeyes are now 4-0 at home and 1-1 on the road.

Highway Patrol Calling Youths

The Ohio State Highway Patrol is one of the nation's best state law enforcement agencies. Training facilities are top-flight as are the young men and women who are trained for the patrol. If you are a high school graduate between the ages of 21 and 30, you may qualify for this top-notch group of officers. A beginning Trooper's salary is $11,544 annually. Call your local Patrol Post today for more information.

Coach Hayes Carries 92 Players To New Orleans For Sugar Bowl

When Ohio State sports fans count their blessings at Christmastime, they should be thankful the Buckeyes have been one of the top college football teams in the nation for the past six years.

During this period of time Ohio has either won or tied for the Big Ten title, played in four consecutive Rose Bowl games, one Orange Bowl contest and now the Sugar Bowl.

In the Buckeyes' five previous bowl appearances, they have won two bowl games and lost three. After going through 1972 with nine victories and one tie, Ohio defeated Southern California 42-21 in the Rose Bowl.

Quarterback Rod Gerald came off the bench down at the Orange Bowl last January to lead the Bucks to a 27-10 win over Colorado.

Coach Woody Hayes was more generous than Santa Claus this year. He carried his entire squad of 92 players to New Orleans for the Sugar Bowl game. The Buckeyes were scheduled to practice at Tulane Stadium on Dec. 21, 22, 24, 26, 27, 29, 30, 31 and Jan. 1.

BUCKEYE HIGHLIGHTS - Four players from the 1977 squad have been listed in the Official NCAA Football Guide as All-Americans. They are tackle Chris Ward, guard Aaron Brown, linebacker Tom Cousineau and defensive back Ray Griffin.

Alabama will be appearing in its 31st bowl game and the 19th in a row, both national records. The Tide is 14-13-3 in bowl games.

Ohio State will be playing in its 12th bowl game. The Crimson Tide has only played one Big Ten team in its long and great football history. Way back in 1928 Bama went to Madison and lost to Wisconsin, 15-0.

Ohio State is 6-1-1 against SEC teams, but the last time they met one was in 1935. OSU is 3-0 vs. Kentucky, 3-1 against Vanderbilt and has a tie with Auburn in a game played in 1917, during the days of the great Chic Harley.

In 1931 Vanderbilt defeated Ohio State 26-21 in Ohio Stadium. Neither Bill Bell nor Russ Embrey, the only two blacks on the Buckeye squad, were allowed to play against Vanderbilt.

Gas Discount Retroactive

Columbia Gas of Ohio customers who have applied and qualified for the 25 per cent heating discount program will receive a retroactive discount on their January gas bill for November and December if the discount does not appear on their December bill.

The gas company said some customers eligible for the discount for November will not receive it on their December bill because the eligibility lists were not furnished to Columbia in time for December billing.

The utility companies are permitted to have 30 days in which to apply the discounts to the eligible gas company customers.

Columbia advises eligible customers that if the credit does not appear on the December bill, a credit for both November and December will appear on the January gas bill.

Customers receiving the 25 per cent heating bill discount are 65 years old or older or permanently and totally disabled, and have a yearly income not exceeding $7,000.

Dog Licenses On Sale Now Thru Jan. 20

Dog licenses for Franklin County are on sale now and can be purchased without penalty until Jan. 20 at the following locations:

HUMANE SOCIETY Animal Shelters, 2770 Groveport Pike and 801 Kingsmill Parkway; SEARS Northland, Eastland and Westland; BIG BEAR SUPER-MARKETS, all 28 locations; HART'S FAMILY STORES, all locations; FRANKLIN COUNTY AUDITOR'S OFFICE, 410 S. High St.; DOG WARDEN, 1721 Alum Creek Dr.; HILLIARD MUNICIPAL BLDG., 372 Waterworks Dr., Hilliard; GRANDVIEW HGTS. PUBLIC LIBRARY, 1695 W. First Ave.

License fees, as established by the county commissioners, are $3.00 per pooch through Jan. 20; $5.00 after that date.

All dogs three months or older as of Jan. 1 must be licensed.

OZZIE NEWSOME, senior split end, is considered by most veteran Alabama football observers, including Coach Bear Bryant, to be "the greatest end in Crimson Tide history."

JIM SMITH...snags rebound

CLEVELAND'S

Jim Smith Adds New Impetus To Buckeyes' Board Strength

By HIRAM L. TANNER

When Jim Smith leaped high to snag a rebound from the defensive board at the OSU-Marshall game the 13,489 fans on hand knew the 6-6, 218 pound freshman had added a new dimension to the Buckeyes attack this year. He has not only been very aggressive on the defensive boards, but he has been getting a lot of points on tip-ins and rebound baskets.

"You have to rebound in order to win," Coach Eldon Miller says, "and in order to rebound you have to have big people. Herbie (Williams) and Jim give us what we need most - good size."

The Buckeyes had trouble last year stopping opponents on the inside. This hole will probably be plugged up this year. Smith has teamed up with Williams to provide Ohio with some much-needed rebounding strength on the offensive and defensive boards.

This hard working freshman has been used at both forward and center. He has scored a total of 46 points in his first six games for a 7.6 average per game. He has also snagged 29 rebounds in the process.

In high school he led Cleveland East Tech to two city titles and averaged 19 points a game as a senior and was named to the Associated Press all-Oio team.

Top AAU Boxer Whips Russian

Gregory Page, 18-year old Louisville, Ky., heavyweight, won a unanimous decision over Russian national champion Igor Yotsky in an international amateur match December 10 in Las Vegas.

In the all-heavyweight matches the USSR defeated the U.S. boxers 6-4. For his efforts, Page was named boxer of the month by the U.S. Amateur Boxers and Coaches Association.

Page is the reigning national AAU heavyweight champion and retained his number 1 ranking among heavyweights for the third consecutive month.

Jeff Stoudemire, (147 lbs.), Cleveland ranked among the top ten amateur boxers in the U.S., also included are: (106) Richard Sandoval, Pomona, Calif.; (112) Jerome Coffee, Nashville, Tenn.; (119) Wayne Lynum, Chicago; (125) Johnnie Bumphus, Tacoma, Wash.; (132) Anthony Fletcher, Phila.; (156) Clinton Jackson, Nashville; (165) Randy Smith, Chicago; (178) Charles Singleton, Phila.; and heavyweight Gregory Page, Louisville.

Eleven other ohioans were ranked among the nation's top ten fighters in their respective divisions: Light heavyweight (178), ranked six, Mark Frazle, Miford; Middleweight (165), ranked third, Lindell Holmes, Toledo; Light Middleweight (156), ranked fourth, Wilson Smith, Cleveland; Welterweight

Reds And Astros To Open Baseball Season, April 6

Weekend series with both National League division champions—Los Angeles and Philadelphia, highlight the Cincinnati Reds' 1978 home schedule, announced last week. The season gets underway on Thursday, April 6 at 2:30 p.m. when the Houston Astros visit Riverfront Stadium for the traditional National League opener.

Both of the weekend series with the champs involve Friday night double-headers. The N.L. champion Dodgers will be in Cincinnati on June 30-July 1-2 with a Saturday night game and a single Sunday game following the Friday pair. The Phillies, Eastern Division kings for two years in a row, have an identical schedule on the weekend of July 28-29-30. The Reds will also play three other doubleheaders, always popular in Cincinnati, and all are tied into four-game weekend series. In another Friday two-night pair, the Reds meet San Francisco on July 7. The Sunday twinbills are against Montreal on May 7 and San Diego on May 21.

In addition to Opening Day, Houston will remain in Cincinnati for three other games. The first night game of the season will begin at 8:05 on Friday, April 7, while the Reds and Astros meet in single afternoon games on Saturday and Sunday. The Astros will return for a July 4 holiday series, playing night games July 3-4-5.

Arch-rival Los Angeles has an early season visit to Riverfront for night games on April 25 and 26 and returns for its third visit in September for three night games.

There are 47 single night games on the 76-date schedule.

FUTURA

Ford introduces Futura.

A dramatic combination of styling and technology for 1978 . . . and beyond.

Here is a car for the automotive future. With dynamic styling. Comfort for five passengers, yet fuel and cost efficiency for the years ahead. A car realistically priced for today. The new Futura. Before you consider any other car available today, read on . . .

Scheduled maintenance costs reduced.

Futura has been engineered to hold down the costs of scheduled maintenance in the years ahead. Recommended oil changes on the standard engine come only once every 10,000 miles. And it's now 30,000 miles between lubri-cations. These are just part of a comprehensive engineering program Ford has instituted to reduce the costs of scheduled maintenance.

33 MPG HIGHWAY
23 MPG CITY

Futura's EPA mileage estimates—with 2.3 litre engine and manual 4-speed—are the highest of any car in its class. Of course, your actual mileage may vary depending on how you drive, your car's condition and optional equipment. California ratings are lower. Futura is also available with 3.3 litre 6-cylinder and 5.0 litre V-8 engines.

$4,267 As shown

Sticker price excluding taxes, title and destination charges. Futura comes with standard front bucket seats.

More Than Race Unites NBA Black Head Coaches

A most significant development in the National Basketball Association this year is the fact that it has added a black head coach, who joins three veteran black coaches.

The NBA, which leads professional sports in the area of "inter-racial administration," has added rookie Willis Reed, New York Knicks to the roster that already includes Al Attles, Golden State Warriors; Elgin Baylor, New Orleans Jazz; and Lenny Wilkens, Seattle SuperSonics. Their philosophies on coaching may be different, but they do have something, other than being black in common — they all have a hard way to go.

LENNY WILKENS

All four of them, this season, will attempt to salvage teams that are old, battered, wrecked by bad deals; and in terms of talent poverty-stricken.

With 30 games remaining in the Warriors' 1977 season, Attles, whose nickname is ironically "The Destroyer," was credited for taking his team from the NBA cellar to a league championship in 1975, two division crowns and pro basketball's best record in 1975-76.

But Rick Barry is 33 years old now and Jamaal Wilkes, Gus Williams and George Johnson are no longer there.

The Warriors are currently 12-12 on the season, but how long will they be able to tread water with the league champion Portland Trailblazers in the same division.

The highlight of last season for Elgin Baylor and the New Orleans Jazz was a seven-game winning streak that set a club record.

Though the team was hampered by injuries, it finished the year with a 35-47 record. The Jazz is 11-13 on the year so far, one game ahead of the Houston Rockets, five games behind the division-leading Washington Bullets and only 2 1/2 games behind the Cleveland Cavaliers.

After having gained a years experience, Baylor says the players know him and that he expects hard work and hustle at all times.

Seattle's Bob "Hoppy" Hopkins said the Pacific West is a tough division but that "every year is different and teams like Portland and Los Angeles are going to have to come out and prove themselves all over again. Last year's records only look good in last year's standings."

The SuperSonics are currently in the basement of the Pacific West with a 9-17 record, 11 games behind the Portland Trailblazers, who are "proving themselves" with a 18-4 record to lead the division.

At the beginning of the season, Hoppy said the Sonics overemphasized defense.

"Certainly it's important," he explained. "But you have to be able to score, too."

The Sonics won only five of its first 22 games this season to rank second in this year's worst won-loss record poll. The New Jersey Nets grabbed first place.

Hoppy, who replaced his cousin, Bill Russell, was replaced just two weeks ago by Lenny Wilkens, the team's director of player personnel.

Until the Sonics met the Cleveland Cavaliers this week, Wilkens was the lone undefeated coach in the NBA with a six-game winning streak.

40-year-old Wilkens was player-coach for the Sonics in 1971-72, helping the team compile its best record (47-35) in its 11-year history.

Contrary to what some printed materials may indicate, both Columbus and Catholic schools will resume sessions on Tuesday, January 3.

The starting date for Columbus schools had previously been set at Monday January 2 but was changed to Tuesday at a recent board meeting.

Columbus schools began the winter recess last Friday, December 16. The last day for Diocesan students varied from school to school, but most schools were out by December 21.

Highway Patrol Kicks Off Drive For Recruits Class

December 13, marks the kick-off date of recruitment efforts for Ohio State Highway Patrol Troopers.

Capt. R.D. Huffman, commander of the Highway Patrol's Columbus District, announced the opening of recruitment for Patrol Academy classes to be conducted during 1978. He asked all young men and women interested in pursuing a career as a Trooper to contact their nearest patrol post for further information.

"The position of Ohio State Highway Patrol Trooper offers applicants the chance of a challenging career," Capt. Huffman said. "Troopers are frequently called upon to take charge of various, often emergency situations. For this reason they are thoroughly trained to handle people and situations calmly, efficiently, and diplomatically."

Applicants for the position of Trooper must meet the following qualifications: 21-30 years of age; a minimum height of 5'6" (measured in stocking feet) with body weight proportional to height; have a valid driver's license; must have graduated from high school or be able to show satisfactory completion of the GED or equivalent. Starting salary for Troopers is $11,544 per year with maximum potential, through yearly increases, of $14,040 annually. Benefits include paid holidays, vacation, sick leave; a comprehensive retirement and pension plan; group medical, surgical, and life insurance programs.

"The Ohio State Highway Patrol needs sincere, young people who are interested in developing a solid, secure future in law enforcement," Capt. Huffman said. "Men and women who wish to apply for the position of Trooper are asked to call their local patrol post immediately. The deadline date for accepting applications is Jan. 27, 1978."

Holiday Purse Snatcher Busy, Police Reports

In the hustle and bustle of the Christmas spirit, it would be wise to hold on to your purse. Police have had a series of reports of purse-snatching in the South Side of Columbus.

Nettie Stewart, 939 Bryden Rd., reported that her purse was grabbed in front of 1263 Mt. Vernon Ave. Contents of purse included $7 cash, billfold valued at $15, a Lazarus credit card, and miscellaneous identification papers. The suspects were identified as two high school teenagers, according to police.

On Dec. 15, Susy Barnes, 1092 Lily, was waiting for a bus at the corner of Kelton Ave. and Whittier St., when her purse was snatched around 11:20 a.m.

Arena Evans, 189 N. 22nd St., lost her purse, valued at $15, $35 cash and her house key to a Christmas purse snatcher. Corrine Wooden, 1783 Livingston Ave., reported that her purse was lifted from the table in the laundromat. The suspect was identified as a male, 30 years of age, wearing a black coat, blue shirt and glasses.

Sgt. Carney was the first black to win a Medal of Honor May 23, 1900.

GOOD MORNING JUDGE

Thursday's docket in Municipal Criminal Court will be considerably lighter in comparison with past dockets held before His Honor, but that will not be the case on the succeeding day when a variety of felony and misdemeanor trials are scheduled to be heard.

One of the cases slated to be heard Thursday involves a 35 year old Eastside man charged with telephone harassment. Henry Wilson, 1368 Granville St., was arrested on a complaint filed by Betty Cody, 1360 Clifton Ave. She alleges that Wilson, "after reasonable requests to desist from calling her, continued to harass her on the phone." He was arrested Dec. 11 on a warrant when police spotted him on Taylor Ave., according to the affidavit. Wilson was released on a recognizance bond.

Carl I. Richie, 21, 2805 Agler Rd., Apt. F., was hit with an aggravated burglary and trespassing charges after police responded to a disturbance call last week. He was accused of trespassing in the home of Viola Jones, Apt. A, same Bldg. Upon searching Richie's car, police allegedly found various items stolen from a residence at 2285 Avalon Pl. reported to them earlier. A $500 appearance bond was set by the court.

For allegedly swiping a television set and food stamps from the home of Robin Chandler, 1017 E. 16th Ave., on Nov. 2, 1976, 26 year old Alfonso (Butch) Scott, 75 N. Ohio Ave., is slated to answer to a petty theft charge Thursday. He was nabbed on a warrant Dec. 14.

Billy Carroll, 20, 301 E. Morrill Ave., charged with the unauthorized use of a motor vehicle, pleaded innocent and had his trial continued for a record proceeding. He is accused of using a vehicle without the consent of the owner, Frank Blevin, 297 E. Morrill Ave., on Dec. 10.

John C. Green, 58, 718 S. Wayne Ave., is scheduled to defend himself against an aggravated menacing offense when he greets the judge Thursday. He allegedly conducted himself in such a manner Dec. 13, to "cause one Willie Lucas to believe Green would cause him physical harm." Green is also charged with using a weapon while in a state of intoxication. A $100 appearance bond was set by the court.

Joe L. Smith, 34, 2180 Hamilton Ave., may be hardput for Christmas money if he keeps his commitment to the Court Thursday. He was arrested on July 9, 1977 for allegedly "improperly handling a .32 caliber revolver in a motor vehicle." He was also hit with a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol (OMVI) at that time.

After several postponements, he finally pleaded guilty to both charges and was assessed fines of $50 and costs on the gun count and $100 on the OMVI offense. He was granted until Dec. 22, to settle his account with the court.

One of the felony cases to be handled on Friday, Dec. 23, involves the allegedly pocket-book grabbing of two Eastside women. Debra K. Bowman, 20, 1361 Bryden Rd., and Linda F. Tanks, 20, 221 N. 22nd St., were each charged with aggravated robbery and released Friday on $3,000 surety bond.

The two suspects, according to police, approached Patricia Clements, 75 Oakland Park Ave., on the parking lot of the Northland Shopping Center on Dec. 15, and asked for directions. After one of the women grabbed Mrs. Clements purse, they both ran and jumped into a car. Mrs. Clements, who chased them was slugged with a bottle in the chest as she reached the suspects car.

Mrs. Clements sighted a police officer in the parking lot and told the officer of the incident. The officer radioed the description of the getaway car and it was sighted traveling south on the North Freeway near Weber Rd., and was finally stopped at the 17th Ave exit. The victims purse and the money she had were found in the car, police said. Both suspects will face a preliminary hearing before Municipal Court Judge Bruce Jenkins Friday.

Another female pair is also scheduled for a preliminary hearing Friday on a penitentiary offense. Jacqueline Richardson, 23, 1259 E. 22nd Ave., and Sabrina A. Moody, 22, 154 or 774 Clarendon Ct., are charged with grand theft, stemming from the alleged theft of several pairs of gloves and purses from Lazarus on Dec. 14. They pleaded not guilty and the hearing was set with a $500 surety bond placed against each suspect.

Other cases set for Friday include the grand theft trial of James Williams, 1022 Chittenden Ave. He was arrested for allegedly shoplifting at Shottenshtein's North on Dec. 11. A $500 surety bond was set by the court.

A 31 year old Illinois man who allegedly fled the state to escape trial on a narcotics rap in 1975, is due to face an extradition hearing in Municipal Court. Willie F. Jordan, 2310 Holt Ave., was indicted by the Cook County grand jury Jan. 1, 1975 on a charge of illegal possession of Heroin, the affidavit shows. He was being held under a $48,000 surety bond.

Tyrone Steele, 879 Greenfield Dr., is scheduled to answer charges of assault on four separate counts. One of the counts accuses him of criminal damage by assaulting a '66 Buick Electra car owned by Theotis Luck, 773 Canopy Pl., Apt. 3, last July 23. A warrant for Steele's arrest was issued July 25, according to court records.

He also allegedly assaulted Willie Johnson, 223 Miller Ave., by slugging him with his fists on July 22. In an earlier charge, Steele is accused of assaulting eight year old Steven Moore, by choking and causing neck lacerations and bruises on May 25, 1977. Steele, 2570 Rinwood Pl., who filed the charge, also alleged that Steele assault him by kicking him about the body.

Calvin G. Fuller, 24, 40 W. Long St., is charged with criminal trespassing on the premises of which he listed as his address, the Central YMCA, Elmer Baldrige, who filed the charge, said Fuller refused to leave when requested and caused Baldrige to believe that Fuller would cause him physical harm. Fuller pleaded not guilty and motioned for a record trial.

Daniel Boone, 25, 1313 Atchison St., according to the affidavit, was out of step with his namesake of historical fame. Boone is charged with criminal damages by smashing a bathroom door and allowing water to flow through the ceiling causing damages below, and with breaking a door glass lamp and a table. Eugene Mosby, 157 Miami Ave., filed the charges, the affidavit indicated.

Patricia A. Harron, 30, 1284 Staley Ave., will be privileged to dispute a vice squad officer Friday before the judge. The squadman alleges that she propositioned him for sexual hire on Fifth and E. Main Sts., on Dec. 14. He also charged her with loitering. Bonds totaling $675 was slapped against the alleged romance peddler.

Cases reported here last week were disposed of as follows: Otis V. Edwards, 48, 1343 E. 24th Ave., bad checks, bound to the grand jury. Walter P. Parks, 43, 235 Rhoads Ave., drug abuse. Ken O. Zigler, 31, 330 Virginia Lee Ct., grand theft, and Deborah A. Owens, 24, 1140 Chittenden Ave., check forgery, all waive preliminary hearings and were bound over to the grand jury.

Cases dismissed included: William H. Wallace, 23, 1471 Minnesota Ave., robbery. Sharon L. Brooks, 29, 442 Woodland Ave., bad checks. The aggravated robbery charge was technically dismissed against Charles C. James, 22, 275 N. 21st St., not because of a lack of evidence, but rather because a direct indictment had been returned against him as charged. Also bound over were: Richard A. Kelley, 20, 178 Lechner Ave., robbery. Mike J. Steele, 38, 2574 Penwood Pl., aggravated burglary, and Karen Jones 20, 1199 Ellsworth Ave., grand theft.

FORMER STUDENTS, STAFF RETURN TO BEATTY PARK FOR CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

Approximately 150 people came out for the recent Alumni Night at Beatty Park Elementary School. Bill Hilton, a teacher at East High and a former Beatty Park student, spoke on Backing Our Kids.

Cecelia Chancellor, the first principal of the school, was made an honorary life member of the PTA. Also honored was Jo House, a parent and former student, and Mazola Traylor, principal.

A Christmas program was presented by the school's first and second grade students.

Ben Chandler was chairperson for the event.

Rep. Brown Plans Bill To Permit Borrowing Against Bankrupted Railroad Notes

Plans to introduce legislation to permit Ohio local governments to sell or borrow against the notes paid by Penn Central Railroad for delinquent taxes, were announced last week by State Rep. Les Brown, Columbus Democrat.

Brown, who said the legislation will be especially helpful to Ohio's school districts, announced plans to introduce the proposal at a press conference at the Statehouse.

Under provisions of the bill, Brown said it would authorize taxing authorities of each local government to request the county treasurer to request the county treasurer to sell some or all of Penn Central notes credited to that government. It would also permit the local government to borrow money against the estimated proceeds of Penn Central notes at their rate of maturity in 1987.

Another provision would require the county treasurer to distribute the annual seven percent interest payments on the notes to local government for which the notes are sold.

Currently, Brown said, "these accrued interest payments are placed in the county general fund. In Columbus, the interest has accumulated in the amount of $300,000" he added.

The present law allows local government to accept notes of the bankrupt railroad, but it prohibits them from selling or borrowing against the notes until they mature in 1987, Brown explained.

"This legislation," Brown concluded, "will be especially helpful to Ohio's school districts, many which are in critical financial condition, by allowing schools to receive a much quicker dollar return out of the notes, and we're talking about millions of dollars statewide."

House, Cecelia Chancellor and Mazola Traylor and standing, Dawna Moody, Carolyn Jones, Janice Chandler and Jodi Hairston.

Quandours Williams, Dwayne House, Jeffrey Tanner, Dawna Moody, Sonya Smith and Dwayne Lopez. With them is their teacher, Darla Martin.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY - Members of the Non Pareil Charity Club gathered at the Christopher Inn to mark the organization's 55th anniversary. ## Non Pareil Charity Club Marks 55th Anniversary

A dozen members of the Non Pareil Charity Club gathered recently at the Christopher Inn to celebrate the organization's 55th anniversary.

Mrs. Geneva Bailey, the oldest living charter member, was guest of honor.

Mrs. Bailey, who is also the most senior member of the congregation of St. Paul A.M.E. Church, and who has been active in the affairs of the National Association of Colored Women's Clubs since the 1920's reminisced about the community service projects undertaken by Non Pareil since its beginning.

One of the projects the club has supported throughout the year has been the Isabel Ridgway Home for The Aged, originally called "The Old Folks Home."

During the "birthday" celebration, a cake adorned with 55 candles was unveiled.

Mrs. Lillian Scott, immediate past president, was presented with a corsage made with 25 crisp, new dollar bills. The gift was in appreciation of her dedicated service to the club over the past decade.

CHARTER MEMBER - Mrs. Geneva Bailey, center, the only living charter member of the Non Pareil Charity Club, was guest of honor recently when the group held a 55th anniversary party at the Christopher Inn. Flanking Mrs. Bailey are Mrs. Lillian Scott (left), immediate past president, and Mrs. Edmonia McGhee, president.

Mrs. Edna L. Bryce, vice-president and a member of the NACWC historical committee, presented the club a beautiful scrapbook for the preservation of mementoes.

The Non Pareil Club was organized in 1922 by Mrs. Mollie Fowler of Hamilton Ave., and is affiliated with the NACWC.

Clubmembers in attendance at the anniversary dinner included Mesdames Margaret Greenlee, Gertrude Martin, Julia Gailther, Mary Long, Donna Thomas, Virginia Jackson, Irma Wood, Melvina Green and Edmonia McGhee, along with three previously named.

Cleveland Gets New Police Chief

There is no question about the need for a real shake up of the Cleveland police department.

Mayor Dennis J. Kucinich realizing this, has made a bold move to do something about it. His first step is the naming of Richard Hongisto, as his Chief of Police.

The naming of Richard Hongisto, of San Francisco, Calif., came as a complete surprise to everybody. However, as an experienced policeman, an elected sheriff, he brings rather impressive credentials to his new post. College trained, with a Masters degree and working on his doctorate, he seems to have, the training, the experience and the youth, being 40 years of age.

His background in law enforcement in California, should qualify him for the law enforcement problems he will face in Cleveland. However, he may find that the problems he faces here may be far more entrenched than those in California. Especially will he find that racism will challenge his every move to reorganize the Cleveland police department.

In selecting his new chief of police, Mayor Kucinich has made a bold move to carry out one of his main campaign pledges, that is to have a police department that is modern and properly organized to meet the challenge of crime and the criminals in this city.

The man he has selected seems to have all the qualifications to do the kind of job the mayor wants. The big question is, can Mayor Kucinich and Chief Hongisto get the present police force to accept their leadership and program. The department is very adept in foot dragging and sabotaging.

We cannot forget the sad experiences Mayor Carl Stokes had when he tried to infuse new blood and new ideas into the police department. His appointees, General Benjamin O. Davis, Safety Director, and Michael Blackman, Police Chief, both resigned in disgust over their frustrations.

Reorganizing the Cleveland Police department is a herculean assignment. As challenging as it is, it is a job that must eventually be done.

We wish Mayor Kucinich and Chief Richard Hongisto well in their effort to give Cleveland a modern, well disciplined, efficient police department. At the present time it is the biggest tax gizzer in the mayors' budget and one of the most inefficient.

For his efforts to be successful, the mayor and his new chief must have the full support and backing of all the people of Cleveland. We must be willing to give the new team a chance for even they are no miracle-makers. We can take solace in the fact that now we have a new broom in the hands of an experienced sweeper.

Mayor Moody Honors Pledge

"I don't know how I'll do it, but if elected I'll do my level best to stop police brutality in the City of Columbus."

Columbus Mayor Tom Moody made that non-dramatic pledge in response to CALL & POST inquiries during the closing days of his campaign in 1971.

Now almost six years later, we are happy to report that the Mayor, by whatever method he used, has provided substantial evidence to prove that his pledge was not just campaign sales talk to woo the black vote.

While the periodic police reports on public complaints, including brutality have been most favorable, we are relying on the number of police brutality complaints registered with the newspaper as evidence for our conclusion:

The complaints, which previously piled up on the editor's desk week after week, simply have not been coming in and to us that is strong evidence that police abuse has dropped off to an all-time low in Columbus.

Exactly what the Mayor did to accomplish this most welcome feat, we do not know. Perhaps, it can be attributed to a statement he made upon becoming Mayor relative to police brutality. At that time, it may be recalled, he said instead of leaving brutality probing up to police brass, he would personally investigate every such complaint reported to him. We can testify from first hand knowledge that he did exactly this. It can also be speculated that reports "the Mayor will not stand for police abuse" filtered down through the ranks to the men on the street and had a telling affect.

As previously stated, we do not know how the Mayor managed to curb brutality by police, but he did and that is what counts on our scorecard.

This is our way of expressing our sincere appreciation to the Mayor and responsible members of the Columbus Police Dept. not only for the humane aspects of cutting down police brutality, but for saving our editorial staff from spending countless valuable hours recording and investigating brutality complaints from both white and black victims of police clubs.

In lieu of Christmas cards, we trust that Mayor Moody will hang this report on his City Hall Christmas Tree and accept it in the spirit of the holiday season. Merry Christmas.

Mayor Tom Moody.

Negroes And Jews

How serious is the breach between blacks and Jews as a result of the Bakke case? What has been the impact of this case and other efforts to downgrade and diffuse Affirmative Action efforts? And can we put the "old coalition" back together again?

These and similar questions are receiving much closer attention by groups that worked hand in hand toward passing the civil rights laws and social legislation in the last 20 years.

It is significant that the prestigious Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, the umbrella organization, of over 141 civil rights, and other organizations concerned with equal opportunity and human rights were unable to take a position on the Bakke case and the issues it raises. The position taken by major Jewish organizations is particularly disturbing to the constituencies of black organizations and their leadership.

In the late 60s and early 70s, newspapers and the electronic media frequently focused upon conflicts that seem to put these two communities against one another. Much of this stress grew out of explosive rhetoric of that period, and the trio of their schools and improve the quality of education. It is unfortunate that the extremists on both sides were able to fill the atmosphere and cloud the issue with expressions of hate toward each other. Indeed it is most unfortunate that the issue was allowed to become a black-Jewish confrontation.

Today we are faced with probably the most threatening development that has appeared upon the civil rights scene in the last 20 years. The Bakke case and all it represents has become divisive, destructive and caused great concerns among all of us. There is no need for us to argue the pros and cons of the Bakke case as we have previously stated in this column why we are for affirmative action and programs specially designed to help our disadvantaged citizens to gain equal access to the goodies of this bountiful country of ours.

Benjamin L. Hooks, Executive Director of the NAACP, in a creative attempt at bridge building between groups that are currently at odds on this issue invited the leadership of those groups who have come down hard against affirmative action programs to come and reason together in the following statement:

"Indeed we are alarmed and have grave concerns over the issue raised by the Bakke case. Our traditional allies in our struggle for equality and the eradication of racism seem to be marching to a different drummer. No matter how the Supreme Court determines the Bakke case, the scars and wounds it has

Black Needs And Black Legislators

Knowing what side your bread is buttered on is very important. Especially is this so for black legislators. All too often legislation comes up in either City Council or the State legislature that vitally affects the interests of black people and our own representatives are mostly ignorant of its impact on their own people.

It is therefore important that our elected representatives scan very carefully every bill or ordinance that comes up for a vote so they can fully understand all its implications.

All too often special interest or selfish political party hacks use their influence to get support for legislation that is not in the best interest of black people. Party loyalty is oftentimes used to get votes from easily-moved legislators who are too lazy to know what's really in the bill. This results in some blacks really voting against their own people.

The growth of the Negro population in our urban centers, has created economic, social and educational problems that demand special attention. Many government programs designed to meet some of our inner-city problems, accomplishes little or nothing because the legislation creating them was drawn so that the benefits that flow to the black communities are minimal. Or, as in many cases, are administered in such a way that the benefits do not get to those for whom they were intended.

The continual eroding of housing in our inner cities, is creating vast waste lands that are being used for dumping grounds for itinerant haulers and indifferent residents.

There are supposed to be many agencies of national, state and local governments supposedly intended to remedy these problems. However, month after month, and year after year, housing and neighborhood conditions get worse rather than better.

Yet, our own legislators sit in their lawmaking seats apparently oblivious to what's going on right before their eyes.

Employment is another one of our chronic problems for which many pieces of legislation have been enacted - all designed to provide jobs, or training programs for the jobless, or other approaches to solutions.

Despite all of these legislative actions, black unemployment is still one of our most serious unsolved problems. And, black legislators sit in their comfortable seats in serene silence while white legislators maneuver to get relief for their constituency or special interests.

The problems of black people are not going to be solved by black legislators sitting on their fannies waiting for whites to initiate remedial or needed legislation.

Four years ago Gov. James A. Rhodes proposed four pieces of legislation all designed to meet many of the problems of the black community. The Democratic party, thinking of the next election, opposed each piece. They all went down to defeat with all of our black legislators leading the parade.

As a result of the defeat of the Rhodes legislation, our inner cities have continued to deteriorate. In the meantime nobody else has come up with any logical approaches to these inner city problems.

Governor Rhodes has constantly tried to get legislation passed to help the inner cities. Not one black legislator has had courage enough to join with the governor in trying to get needed legislation passed.

If any legislation is designed to help black people with their problems, party loyalty should have no place in determining whether to support it or not.

There was a big division among black legislators in the passage last week of Sub. H.B. 826 in the Ohio Legislature. Fortunately a change of three black votes was most helpful in its final passage. Despite the fact that this bill is designed to help bring industry into the state and our cities, some of our black legislators were so uninformed or committed to their party, that they actually voted against their own best interest.

Last week many of the white democratic legislators who we opposed to this piece of legislation, went to Cincinnati with Governor Rhodes, smiled and applauded as officials of the Ford Motor Co., announced their plans to build a $500,000 plant in Clermont County.

If our black legislators had been alert, smart and informed, they could have tried and possibly been successful in influencing the Ford Motor Company to locate this plant closer to the centers of black population. The Honda Company of Japan also located their plant in an area far from centers of Negroes. Yet, not a one of our legislators made any effort to get the governor to use his influence in getting the Japanese to pick another location.

Being slaves to political party membership and leadership is no way to help the black community with its problems. Black needs cannot be met by legislators whose loyalty is to others rather than to their own people. The only commitment they should be bound by is their obligation to their own people for every one of our black legislators are elected in districts predominately black and these are the only voters who can defeat them.

Black Africans and Israel

Black African states that broke diplomatic ties with Israel under Arab pressure are likely to resume normal relations with the Jewish State in the wake of Egyptian President Anwar Sadat's precedent - shattering visit to Jerusalem, it was forecast last week. This speculation was motivated by the "positive response" by members of the Organization of African Unity to the Sadat trip and its later developments, including the Cairo conference now going on.

As a matter of background, in 1973 all but three Black African states ended diplomatic relations with Israel under strong Arab pressure following the Yom Kippur war, thus bringing to an end Israel's impressive development assistance projects in Africa.

The extent and effectiveness of these programs, under which thousands of Black Africans were trained in Israel and thousands more took part in training courses in their own countries given by Israeli experts, is covered in a new study prepared by the American Jewish Congress - "To Serve, to Teach, to Leave," documenting Israel's development aid programs in 31 Black African states.

The countries involved include Botswana, Cameroon, Central African Empire, Chad, Congo, Dahomey, Ethiopia, Gabon, Gambia, Ghana, Guinea, Ivory Coast, Kenya, Lesoto, Liberia, Malagasy, Republic, Malawi, Mali, Mauritius, Niger, Nigeria, Rwanda, Senegal, Sierra Leone, Swaziland, Tanzania, Togo, Uganda, Upper Volta, Zaire, and Zambia.

Bayard Rustin, civil rights leader and an early organizer and supporter of Black African liberation movements, has noted that the governments of Kenya, Zambia, the Sudan and the Ivory Coast, have publicly praised President Sadat, and added that no Black state in Africa had criticized the Egyptian President or had endorsed the opposition taken by Syria and Libya.

Mr. Rustin also cited several instances in which Black African nations expressed interest in resuming ties with Israel even before the Sadat visit. He recalled that

THAT TIME AGAIN

If you've got the money,
You owe it to yourself
To pick your Christmas presents
An' lay 'em on the shelf
To fill the Christmas stockings
Of little girls an' boys
With candies, nuts and gimcracks
An' the usual Christmas joys.

But if you're like Methuselah
(Completely bent an' busted)
You still can prove your friendly side
Aint done completely rusted.
A penny(?) postcard sent in time
To those who hold you dear
Will keep a lot of friendships
Throughout the coming year.

The Lord knows there'll be many
Who as this Christmas nears
Won't see no bright - hued candles
Fer wipin' way the tears.
But let us get the notion
That life's a total loss,
Remember Jesus triumphed
While hangin' from a Cross!

Lt. Governor Pick Eyed

The new law requiring governor and lieutenant governor to run as a team in party primaries, is a source of wide speculation by close political observers.

The Ohio Legislature, acting on a constitutional mandate by the voters, passed the so-called tandem law which requires a gubernatorial candidate to select his running mate before the March 23 primary filing deadline.

Gov. James A. Rhodes, a Republican, signed the measure into law. And while he is virtually certain to seek reelection and equally certain to easily win the Republican gubernatorial nomination, he has yet to announce his plan and has indicated it will not be revealed before sometime after Christmas.

So far the only Republican to officially announce his candidacy for lieutenant governor is Virgil Brown, black Manager of the Cuyahoga County (Cleveland) Board of Elections. Since the pairing law was enacted after the 57 year old former Cleveland City Councilman announced his candidacy, there is speculation to the effect that Rhodes, 66, will choose a younger candidate to run with him.

The fact that Lt. Gov. Richard Celeste, Democrat, who appears to be the front runner for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination is only 40 years of age gives rise to the above speculation. Celeste has already indicated that the main plank in his campaign platform will be age.

To offset this scheme, most political pundits maintain that Rhodes would be wise to look for a running mate in the 30 to 40 age bracket with established public background.

Three individuals who fit neatly into this category are, Robert Taft, II, Cincinnati, son of former U.S. Senator Robert A. Taft Jr., Charles Rockwell Saxbe, Mechanicsburg, son of former U.S. Atty. Gen. William Saxbe and C. William O'Neill, Columbus, son of Ohio Supreme Court Chief Justice, C. William O'Neill. All three are members of the Ohio House of Representatives.

Although neither of the three have had statewide exposure at the polls, anyone who has been voting in Ohio during the past 50 years will be familiar with their names, for their respective fathers have been elected to statewide offices frequently for decades. Like their fathers, all three are lawyers and are engaged in the general practice of law in their respective homes.

Brown, who represented the 25th Ward in Cleveland City Council until he resigned three years ago to accept the appointment to his present position, has also been mentioned as a possible candidate for Secretary of State. But this is also unlikely, since veteran Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, Republican, is expected to seek reelection.

Under the new law, all lieutenant governor candidates must be paired with a gubernatorial aspirant. Thus, the probability of an independent without being paired with a candidate for governor, is eliminated.

Consequently, about the only thing for sure about the lieutenant governor candidates is that they will be chosen by the party's gubernatorial candidates.

SEASON'S GREETINGS

The Christmas season is in full swing and everyone's out with their gift lists in hand. I've got a list too, a little list of gifts beyond the ability of one person to bestow, but gifts that would make this a happier country.

My first and foremost hoped-for gift is jobs for the jobless.

Without getting into the statistical morass of how many people are really jobless today, the best informed estimate is about 13 million. They need jobs and the country needs their productivity and their human resources.

So here's a societal gift - jobs for everyone who wants to work. Income for people whose living standards fall beneath the minimum standards. Opportunities for those without them.

For white Americans - the gift of freedom from racism, freedom from the self-engendered fears that imprison people in suspicion and irrational dislikes.

Everyone knows the terrible price imposed on black people by racism, but too many people remain unaware of the full costs to whites. Historically, racism has operated to give majority Americans a false sense of superiority, weakened their communities and labor movements, and deprived them of the full range of human expression.

So the gift of overcoming racism and its habits is just about the best package most people could get.

For black people, perhaps the most relevant gift is continued perseverance in the face of discrimination and poverty - the will to keep on fighting the odds.

This is a familiar gift for black people; it's the one that helped us survive and even to progress despite oppression and now, indifference. Perhaps this is the year to use the gift of perseverance to overcome the ills that afflict our communities - the bad schools, the street crime, the failure to register and vote, and others. Perseverance ought to mean redoubling our efforts, both to pressure larger society to change, and also to make our communities more livable.

For President Carter, there is the gift of remembrance. It's been a rough year for the President, but maybe next year will be better if he remembers the hopes and beliefs he engendered in black people and other minorities that led them to vote for him in overwhelming numbers. Remembering the promises that led to his devotion, and fighting to fulfill them, is the best gift he can have.

For the Supreme Court, the gift of courage and wisdom to support the constitutionality of affirmative action programs, and not to weaken past rulings in defense of racially-based remedies for racially-imposed disadvantage.

Whatever the outcome of the Bakke Case, which has been overrated in terms of its significance, there will be several similar cases bound to reach the Court. And whatever the merits of the individual cases, the Court needs to have the courage and wisdom not to turn its back on the constitutional rights of minorities long denied those rights.

For the Congress, the gift of responsibility. Because of Vietnam and Watergate, Congress has amassed more power, but its failure to support important Presidential initiatives and its failure to come up with its own programs to help the poor, the jobless, and the cities, means it has a shortage of responsibility, which our gift should help cure.

For Senator Hubert Humphrey, two gifts. One, good health. His courageous battle against cancer has won him the respect of all and those of us who are his firm friends, who remember how he stood by black people and decent causes throughout the phenomenal career, pray for his full recovery.

His second gift - passage of the Humphrey-Hawkins Bill, is a fitting milestone to a great legislator who always fought for jobs for the jobless.

And for the rest of us, peace on earth, plenty and prosperity for all.

predominantly Jewish and black community groups who sought to gain con-evident that a felicity seemingly exists in the courtship between the white and yellow youths, while the black youth generally carries a pout on his face. But the scene, nevertheless, changes.

It is disturbing to a black man that foreigners of the last 30 years have made such a headway in the American economy and social structure. After two Oriental wars, white America scurried around to find homes and employment for political enemies of the opposing nations.

The association, which represents the nation's 120 medical schools, said total enrollment for all four years of study reached 100,339 this year, as against 97,765 last year.

Females made up 25.6 percent of the entering class of 18,136 this year, compared with 24.7 percent last year. Women now make up 23.7 percent of the total four-year enrollment. Minority groups, including Blacks, American Indians and Mexican-Americans make up about 9 percent of the new class.

In Zambia, a group of Parliament led by Valentine John Mwanakatwe urged the government to bring back the Israeli experts who had worked in Zambia since 1964 and who had been asked to leave when Zambia broke relations with the Jewish state.

"We want the Israelis to return to Zambia because they did more for us than any other country in the present advisors," Mr. Mwanakatwe said, as quoted in the Times of Zambia.

Training in microbiology, engineering, printing, port management.

Eradication of tuberculosis and eye diseases such as trachoma.

Planning and construction of roads, dams, schools, public buildings.

Construction of hotels and hotel-management training.

Planning, engineering and construction of water works and urban sewerage.

Ms. Burke was formerly a publicist with WGBH-TV in Boston, where she coordinated national promotion and publicity for such national market programs as "Nova," the award-winning science series, and "Rebok," a multicultural children's show. Prior to that, she worked as an information specialist for public affairs programming at the Public Broadcasting Service here. Ms. Burke holds a B.A. in journalism from Howard University.

What Black Americans must now do is to launch a major "Jobs for the Poor" campaign to ensure that Congress enacts a bill that specifically focuses on the crisis existing in America's major urban centers.

"If there is a wrong and it must be corrected, there must be a way to correct it. So we call upon our traditional allies who now seem to be marching to the tune of a different drummer to show us how we can do it better, if what we are doing in the way of affirmative action program is wrong."

Finally above all, let's be mature enough to disagree without being disagreeable.

LUSAKA, Zambia (AP)—Zambia showed a Rhodesian military aircraft that violated Zambian airspace recently, a government spokesman said recently.

MOGADISHU, Somalia—(NBNS)—President Mohamed Siad Barre has bemoaned the apparent unwillingness of the United States to become involved in the Horn of Africa.

President Barre said that the Soviet Union was planning, along with Cuba, Ethiopia and other unnamed countries, to occupy northern Somalia and its port of Berbera with the object of controlling the mouth of the Red Sea, one of the world's most strategic waterways.

It is true that we ought to be the world leaders in calling for human rights in South Korea, Indonesia, Bangladesh and other countries. But first, let's deliver a better brand of human rights to our own people. Then we might be better able to throw the first stone!

The New York State Banking Superintendent, Rufus Siebert, said recently that her department would seek again next year to get the Legislature to outlaw redlining by the refusal of banks to grant mortgages in poverty-stricken and other areas they consider financially risky.

NEWS FROM BARACK

Recreation Center Lists Holiday Events

Barack Center's holiday schedule is packed full of fun for all with many special events for the entire family.

Santa Claus is expected to visit children at the elementary Christmas Party at Barack Recreation Center, 580 Woodrow Ave., Thursday, Dec. 22.

The drama class will present a creative play, "It Is Better To Give Than Receive," as part of the Yule activities on Dec. 22, at 4 p.m.

All-day on Friday, Dec. 23, Barack Cinema will show entertaining movies.

The playoffs of the junior and senior boys' holiday basketball tournament will be played on Wednesday, Dec. 28 and a skating party for all Barack members will take place on Friday, Dec. 29.

Under the direction of Ms. Bettye Stull, Barack Center staff members are observing special holiday season hours. From Dec. 19-23, Center hours for elementary members will be from 1-6 p.m. and 6-10 p.m. for teens; Dec. 24-26 Barack will close for Christmas; Dec. 27-30, 1-6 p.m. for elementary and 6-10 for teens; Saturday, Dec. 31, 9 a.m. to noon for both elementary and teen members.

The Barack staff urges parents to support their children by attending the special holiday programs at the Center.

Center registration is at an all time high with a total of 883 daily participants.

As a result, many new faces may be seen around the building and to service the hundreds of expectant youngsters several new leaders have joined the staff.

They are: Ms. Logan, who teaches arts and crafts, Monday thru Friday, 4-6 p.m. and Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 7-10 p.m. Dance is taught by Ms. Grooms, Tuesdays only, 4-6 p.m. with modern dance instructed by Mr. Lewis, Wednesdays only, 7-10 p.m.

Boys' cooking is handled by Ms. Taylor on Mondays, 4-6 p.m.; while on Thursday from 4-6 p.m., drama classes are held with girls' drill, Wednesday, 4-6 p.m.; girls' cooking, Thursday, 4-6 p.m.; teen cooking, Thursday only, 7-10 p.m. and roller skating on Friday, 4-10 p.m.

The Center is also looking for adults to participate in the dance class.

In addition to its regular classes, Barack Center, in cooperation with the Columbus Public Schools, is teaching an in-school program.

Every Wednesday and Thursday from 1-2:30 p.m., eighty-six girls attend Barack classes from Reeb Ave. and Lincoln Park Elementary Schools. Both teachers and students are finding gymnastics to be an exciting activity and a wonderful way to develop a fit body.

If you turned on your television set recently and recognized someone, he was Steve Gregory, boxing instructor at the Center. Steve and his boxers demonstrated such techniques as shadow boxing and sparring on the recreation program "Fun For Everyone," on WTVN-TV 6, Nov. 26. Boxers who participated in the program were Randy McDonald, Alan Richardson, Rocky Bethold, Tony Dawson, Tony Lipsey and Dwight Coates.

Group Gives Legal Advice

In 1977 10,000 Columbus area residents who had legal problems but did not know a lawyer were helped through the Columbus Bar Association's Lawyer Referral Service, 66 South Third St.

About two-thirds of these inquiries were referred to a qualified attorney on the Lawyer Referral Panel and the remainder referred to various local social service agencies.

Although the Lawyer Referral Service cannot give legal advice, anyone who calls requesting legal assistance can be referred to an attorney. The caller then contacts the attorney for an appointment, and the first half hour consultation with the attorney is $15.00.

If the client and the attorney agree that further legal services are required, the additional fees, if any, are arranged by mutual consent.

The attorneys are listed by the types of legal matters they are willing to accept and the area of the county in which their office is located.

The Lawyer Referral Service is open Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and can be reached by calling 221-0754.

JR. GIRLS VOLLEYBALL CHAMPS - Fifteen joyful young ladies from Barack Recreation Center were crowned the 1977-78 Jr. Girls City Volleyball Champions by defeating Westgate two consecutive games 15-1 and 15-3. The talented young athletes competed with twenty other teams representing all Columbus recreation centers. Pictured in the front row, from left: Carmen Warner, Terrayvya Roland, Nolita Berger, Vanessa Jones, Sonia Thomas, Laverne Federson, Jada and Leah Murphy. Back row, from left: Karen Wywick, leader; Rhonda McKay, Debbie Hicks, Doris Grant, Denise Hughes, Ann Glover, Amy Jackson, Wendy Bates and Delores Jackson. Enthusiastic parents, Joann Berger and Annie Fishman never missed a game as they cheered their team on to victory.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT - "A cast from the high bar and back hip circle is not an easy trick to do on the uneven parallel bars," explains Barack Center's gymnastics leader, Mr. McKenzie, but Delores Jackson, above, knows that practice makes perfect. More than eighty girls are enrolled in the gymnastics classes which meet Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons from 3:30 - 4:30 p.m. for beginners and 4:30 - 5:45 p.m. for advanced students. Barack Recreation Center is located at 580 Woodrow Ave.

UP-UP AND AWAY - Sonia Thomas practices her back flip on the trampoline as Nolita Berger coaches her technique and form. Both of these talented young gymnasts performed trampoline routines Dec. 20 as part of Barack Recreation Center's special event show, "Spotlights on Gymnastics, Dance and Drill." In the gymnastics division at the Center techniques are taught in tumbling, balance beam, uneven parallel bars, vaulting and trampoline. Classes meet Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at 3:30 for beginners and 4:30 for advanced students.

WHEATSTONE HIGH CLERK MISHANDLED $21,663.91 STAFF AUDITOR REPORTS

A Wheatstone High School clerk-custodian of student activity accounts at the school has mis-handed $21,663.92 in school funds, according to State Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson.

Ferguson announced that examiners found that Carolyn Hagans, the clerk mishandled the funds by failing to follow operational accounts as prescribed by law during the period of Jan. 1, 1974 and Dec. 31, 1976.

He also reported that $25,694.92 of the total finding has been repaid either by the individual or bonding companies.

Ferguson reported, that the shortage has been repaid.

The $21,663.92 was the largest of findings of $28,308.91 issued against the Columbus City School district resulting from the audit involving 16 schools, Ferguson reported.

Shortage of lunchroom funds at Clarfield Elementary School totaling $2,953.86 was leveled against Phyllis Carter, a food service handler at the school. This funds have been repaid by a bonding company, according to the auditor.

He also reported that $25,694.92 of the total finding has been repaid either by the individual or bonding companies.

Whitney Young Foundation Has Grant Competition

The Whitney M. Young Jr. Memorial Foundation has announced its 1978-79 competition for the Academic and Intern Fellowship Program.

The program was established in 1972 to help develop in young men and women the leadership skills needed for the creation of just and humane society.

Two types of grants are offered: Academic Fellowships and Intern Fellowships.

Conditions for an award are the possession of maturity; demonstrated leadership capability and a record of commitment to positive social change. Applicants are required to design a program of study or work which will enhance already visible leadership capabilities and which will positively address specific problem areas in the society.

Stipends offered by the Foundation vary in amount, dependent on need and those justifiable costs required for the completion of a project.

A brochure and application forms are available by writing to G. Wayne Glick, program administrator, Whitney M. Young Jr. Fellowship Program, 500 E. 62nd St., 19th floor, New York, N.Y. 10021.

CMACAO EXTENDS YULE GREETINGS AND OFFERS HELP TO THOSE IN NEED

By WILLIAM E. CONLEY
Deputy Executive Director
CMACAO

How do the poor
celebrate Christmas?

Do they celebrate it with stacks of presents under the Christmas tree, with tables laden with turkeys, hams, fruit cakes and all of the traditional "goodies?"

Maybe they do, some of them. But at CMACAO we see the Christmas Season and the problems of the poor from a perspective
that suggests that they do not.

Caring, giving, joy,
peace, goodwill, prosperity
are words that we hear and see expressed through music, greeting cards and a bombardment of advertising months before Christmas. Good words.
Positive words. At least it would appear that way to people who celebrate the occasion of the birth of Christ.

However, those good
and positive words conjure up other words that are not so good or positive for the many thousands of poor people in Columbus who have little or no resources which would allow them to share in this prosperous holiday.

Loneliness, isolation,
futility, frustration, poverty
and alienation are words
that are direct opposites,
to those usually
associated with Christmas.
Yet these words are those most closely associated with the feeling of the poor
at Christmas.

Christmas can be a bleak time for many. It is a

Butterfly McQueen was known as a comedienne star of radio, stage, and
movies with her
natural flutery voice.
In 1939, she played
"Prissy" a 13-year-old girl in the top picture
"Gone With The Wind" although she was 29 years old.

"THEY ARE A REAL HELP", says Ida Davis, left, after she received a Christmas basket from the CMACAO Martin is on welfare, says CMACAO has been a good friend to her and her family since she moved to Columbus from Alabama

a year ago.

time when the hopelessness of people without adequate resources is felt most keenly. How do you explain to children that there will be no presents
under the Christmas tree, if indeed there is even money for a tree at all?

How do you explain to them that "visions of sugar plums dancing in their heads" are only visions;
that there is no money for sugar plums or milk or bread or anything else?

Many organizations gear
their charitable efforts towards Christmas; hoping to allow everyone to participate. This is not enough. The sense of futility and alienation may be increased by these efforts. Certainly the poor are grateful for what help they can receive, but who wants to surrender dignity for trinkets?

CMACAO (Columbus

with hundreds of people who cannot share fully in the Christmas season.
People who come seeking food, clothing, shelter, toys
and most importantly, jobs.
To these people the CMACAO family extends a very sincere wish and a

Desegregation Magic Word For Blaming Budget Woes

By MICKI BELTZER

Once upon a time there was a school board. And as is usual, with school boards, this school board had problems with money. There was never enough. The school board couldn't always solve its money problems, so to alleviate the sting, board members relied on magic words. Words like inflation, rising salaries, fuel costs, tax payers' revolt. The words didn't make the problems go away, but they made the board members feel better and it took the attention away from them.

Then one day they found a new word, a word that made them forget all the other words. The word, desegregation, had a magic much more powerful than any they had encountered before.

For as far back as most memories go, school boards have been looking for words to blame for their money problems, but never before have they found one as successful as the word, desegregation. With its companion words, forced busing, federal control, brainwashing, etc., the word has done wonders for majority members of the Columbus school board.

The word has so much magic that most people forget the fact that it was the school board, not the federal judge, that violated the law and was therefore responsible for bringing about desegregation. The magic of the word obscures the fact that it was the school board that invented forced busing when they bused students to foster segregation, and it was the school board that spent millions of dollars in taxpayers' money to build unneeded buildings that furthered segregation.

When the Columbus school board met last week to look at the proposed budget for 1978, with its anticipated $19 million deficit, it had little to say about inflation, fuel costs, etc. Instead, it sprinkled the discussion with comments about the cost of desegregation and questions about what the federal judge can do about it.

What about the cost of desegregation? How much does it have to do with that $19 million deficit? A close look at the budget reveals that much can be done with a different kind of magic, the magic of numbers.

The school board uses the figure $9.4 million in discussing the cost of the desegregation remedy, yet that figure does not represent additional costs to the school system. It includes personnel and materials that were already in the budget but are being diverted to desegregation, as well as what it calls "out-of-pocket" costs. The out-of-pocket cost according to the new budget is $6 million.

Even that $6 million figure, however, is not what desegregation is going to add in new costs because it does not reflect the revenue which desegregation brings to the school system from the state and federal government. At present, the revenue for the remedy plan is $2 million. In addition, Supt. Joseph Davis has told the board that the prospects for securing additional outside funding for some of the desegregation costs are good.

A figure that does not show up in the budget is the $1.3 million in savings gained from planned school closings. This is an aspect of the desegregation plan that school board members would like to have both ways. Technically, the closings are not the fault of desegregation, but rather are due to a drop in school enrollment. When faced with irate parents, however, school board members like to blame the closings on desegregation. They do not, however, subtract the savings when talking about the cost of desegregation.

Another way to look at the budget is to compare it with previous years, and look at how the cost of desegregation compares with other costs. From 1976 to 1977, with no desegregation yet in effect, the expenditures for teachers salaries and benefits went from $60.9 million to $66.1 million. The increase, according to school officials, was due mostly to a pay increase but also included additional staff required by new state legislation.

Looking at the years 1975 to 1976 for the same category, expenditures went from $56.6 million to close to $60 million an increase of $3.3 million. Of that amount, the portion for desegregation was $1.7 million.

The total amount for both professional and classified salaries increased by $13.2 million between 1975 and 1976, with a desegregation cost of $3.8 million.

Increases in group health insurance and retirement benefits between 1975 and 1976 were $1.2 million and $1.5 million respectively, while desegregation costs in those categories are $103,000 for group health insurance and $290,000 for retirement.

For the same time period, the cost of fuel increased by $916,000 and the cost of electricity increased by $2 million. There were no desegregation costs in these categories.

Although the school board listed no expenses for buses in 1977, it attributed its total anticipated expenditure for 1978, $3.5 million, to desegregation.

No doubt desegregation costs money. So does bureaucratic waste, fuel, inflation, health insurance and time spent bickering at board meetings. To blame it all on desegregation is a fairy tale.

Man Shot

Melvin Crawford, 30, of 365 Miller Ave., was charged with felonious assault Tuesday after he allegedly shot his sister's common-law husband during a domestic argument.

Police said Crawford shot Timothy Cain, 22, once in the stomach.

QUESTIONS WELCOME - Patients at a Planned Parenthood clinic have plenty of opportunity to learn about the various contraceptive methods available to them and to ask questions. If the doctor finds no medical condition that would cause a problem, the method of the patient's choice is prescribed.

PLANNED PARENTHOOD

Began In 1932 With Staff Of One; Now Employs 82

(First in a series)

A tiny clinic opened in 1932 to provide family planning help for poor married women who could not afford the services of a private physician. It was open one day a week with one paid nurse and a volunteer doctor.

Now, 45 years later, Planned Parenthood of Central Ohio operates 10 clinics in six counties, has a paid staff of 82 and provides services to the entire community regardless of income, race, age, marital status, or other restrictions. Last year more than 12,000 women received contraceptive services from Planned Parenthood.

Medical services offered include a physical assessment, involving a Pap smear, check for breast cancer, venereal disease screening, blood tests, urinalysis, blood pressure measurement and pelvic examination. Counseling is provided to the patient on the various birth control methods and she selects the one she prefers, if there are no medical conditions to prohibit her choice.

Many people think that this is all that Planned parenthood does. They may not be aware of the other health-related services provided. These include pregnancy testing, premarital blood testing, sterilization for both men and women and treatment of venereal disease.

The counseling program offers assistance in such areas as problem pregnancies, parent-child relationships and family life. A social service representative can help patients meet other needs by providing referrals to community agencies.

Through the Education and Training Department, the Planned Parenthood speakers bureau works with school classes, and other organizations and the resource center offers films, books, magazines, and other materials.

Three full-time Planned Parenthood clinics are located in Columbus. They are at 85 S. Grant Ave.

1896 N. High St., and 1465 E. Broad St. Cost of services is based on income and number of people in the family. Some services are provided at no cost under Medicaid or a Title XX contract with the Franklin County Welfare Department.

A Perfect Compliment To A Cup of Coffee

When friends drop in for "coffee and..." make it coffee and a very special homemade quick bread—Sour Cream Streusel Coffee Cake. This tasty, tempting creation is the perfect accompaniment to a cup of freshly brewed coffee, whether it's at breakfast, brunch or an informal afternoon get-together with friends.

What separates Sour

Cream Streusel Coffee Cake from the ordinary quick breads category is the flavorful sour cream cake underneath and the delightful crunch on top. The secret to both is Quaker or Aunt Jemima Enriched Corn Meal. The corn meal adds crispness to the traditional pecan, sugar and cinnamon streusel mixture and gives the moist cake a distinctively different flavor and texture.

WHEN YOU'RE looking for the perfect treat to serve with coffee, Sour Cream

Streusel Coffee Cake is the answer. Served warm from the oven, this delightful quick bread makes "coffee and..." really special.

SOUL CREAM STREUSEL COFFEE CAKE

Streusel Mixture:
3/4 cup chopped pecans
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 cup Quaker or Aunt Jemima Enriched Corn Meal
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
2 teaspoons cinnamon

Coffee Cake:
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1-1/4 cups all-purpose flour

3/4 cup Quaker or Aunt Jemima Enriched Corn Meal
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/4 teaspoon salt

For streusel mixture, combine all ingredients; mix well. For coffee cake, beat together butter and sugar until light and fluffy; blend in sour cream, eggs and vanilla. Add combined remaining ingredients; mix well. Spread half the batter into greased 9-inch baking pan; sprinkle with half the streusel mixture. Drop remaining batter by half teaspoonfuls evenly over streusel mixture; sprinkle with remaining streusel mixture. Bake in preheated moderate oven (375°F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Cool about 10 minutes; serve warm. Makes 9-inch square coffee cake.

Rehabilitation Group Will Train Workers

Adults over 60 are needed to take part in the Senior Friends program, which recently came under the auspices of North Central Community Mental Health Center, 9 Buttrick Ave.

Senior Friends, formerly directed by the Franklin County Mental Health Assoc., is a group program in which senior citizens establish a relationship with older adults who have recently been released or have the potential for release from a state hospital, said Diane Koram, program director.

The goal is to help a client step from the hospital into the everyday world of good conversation, grocery shopping, taking walks and being friends.

Each Senior Friend spends about an hour a week visiting with clients, helping them with their transition into a nursing home or into the community.

Senior Friends receive training in working with clients and are given a small hourly wage in appreciation for their work. Time commitment is no more than 20 hours a week.

There are presently six friends involved in the program and about ten more are needed, Ms. Koram said. The program has been very successful.

"Of all the adults that have been involved in the program, we have had only three that have had to return to the hospital for further treatment," Ms. Koram said.

For information, contact Diane Koram with the Senior Friends program at Central Ohio Psychiatric Hospital, 466-5950.

REV. JESSE JACKSON greets the crowd following his dinner speech at Ohio State University Graduate School's sixth annual Visitation Days Program.

Jesse Jackson Stresses Excellence In Education

EAST LANSING, Mich. — Excellence in education is the key to whether we (blacks) make it, Rev. Jesse Jackson said in a fiery keynote address recently at Michigan State University's fifth National Conference on Counseling Minorities.

We must excel. That's the only way the victim can fight back, he told his audience of 400 attending the recent conference.

"Even if we excel, we may not make it. If we do not excel, we are guaranteed not to make it," Jackson emphasized.

Director and founder of PUSH (People United to Save Humanity), Jackson said his organization has been studying education and has recently initiated its "PUSH for Excellence" program to increase achievement in the basic skills.

"The No. 1 crisis in education," said Jackson, "is discipline."

"There are five A's to my little education scheme. 'If you get a child's attention, you can affect attendance which will affect attitude.'"

An improved attitude, Jackson continued, will affect atmosphere which will lead to better achievement.

"Achievement is the bottom line; but if students are not paying attention, they will not learn."

Discipline, Jackson explained, includes turning off the television set.

"Achievement is the bottom line; but if students are not paying attention, they will not learn."

"No mother's so poor that she can't turn off a television set. If the mother cannot rule the boy at 16, she can rule him at 6."

"Even the victim can turn off a TV set from 7 to 10 at night. If we invest our energy in reading and writing and counting and systems of thought, we will be as proficient at thinking as we are at running and jumping and shooting."

"That is not a natural problem, that is a social problem."

"There's nothing wrong with our genes, but there is something wrong with our agenda."

Jackson strongly opposed the influence of the mass media, particularly television, which, he said, has more hours of our attention and makes deeper impressions than either the school or the church.

Television shows only a superficial lifestyle and builds the attitude that any problem can be solved in an hour, he explained.

"This programs us," said Jackson, "into a kind of impatience so that if we cannot solve a math or chemistry problem in an hour, we step away."

The fundamental difference between private and public schools, he said, is "attitude," Jackson asserted.

The greater "expectation of parents and students" leads to a "reduction of distraction."

"We have a right to reduce the distractions," he said.

"Our communities must decide that they have the will and desire to excel."

"Why must we (blacks) excel?" Jackson asked. "Because we're behind."

"Because doors once opened are now swinging closed — which is the meaning of the Bakke case."

"And because there is a high level of emotional gratification and joy that comes from conquering difficult information."

Jackson said the fundamental resistance toward blacks by whites for upward mobility has already set in.

The Bakke case — no matter what the Supreme Court decides — means that the country is swinging to the right and indicates a broad movement against affirmative action.

"A few years ago, the name of it was 'backlash.' Then it was called 'hard hats,' and now it's called 'Bakkeism.'"

"We were denied based on race. We should be compensated based on race," Jackson said.

Church Council Receives Grant For OJSC Fund

Gov. James A. Rhodes has announced approval of a $41,581 grant to the Ohio Council of Churches, Columbus, for the funding of the Ohio Juvenile Service Commission, a statewide program designed to channel youth and family services to those who are involved in the juvenile justice system.

The grant will be supplemented locally with $4,620. The State of Ohio awarded the grant under the federally approved provisions of Ohio's $19.6 million Comprehensive Criminal Justice Plan for 1977.

Advent/Harambee Uhuru Set Kwanza Celebration

Advent Community Church, in co-operation with the Harambee Uhuru School, will sponsor a Kwanza Celebration Sunday, Jan. 1, at the Crossroads Party House in the Crossroads / Somerset Community at 8 p.m. Each family is invited to bring a dish of food for the feast during the celebration. Rev. Samuel L. Varner, pastor, is host for the Kwanza festivities.

Kwanza is a time for reflection and spiritual preparation for the year ahead.

Each of the seven days of Kwanza (which means first fruits of the harvest in Swahili) is dedicated to a principle of black culture: umoja (unity), kujichagulia (self-determination), ujima (collective work and responsibility), ujamaa (cooperative economics), nia (purpose), kumba (creativity), and imani (faith).

Therefore, Kwanza is a Christmastime celebration or roots. It is an opportunity to expose black children to their rich cultural heritage. The first American Kwanza was celebrated in the U.S. in 1966, adapted from an East African harvest festival by black activist Ron Karenga to unite the black community and counteract the commercial nature of white Christmas.

Born out of the black nationalism of the 1960's and inspired by Alex Haley's "Roots," Kwanza is now flourishing as an Afro-American alternative to Christmas.

Clothing Shipment Aids Refugees From Apartheid

The American Friends Service Committee announced a shipment in cooperation with Church World Service of 10,000 pounds of clothing for desperate refugees in Botswana who have fled from oppression in Rhodesia and the Republic of South Africa.

The shipment, packed in 150 bales, included layettes, blankets and clothing for babies, young people, men and women. The AFSC is collecting more men and boy's clothing and shoes and sneakers for further shipments. Trading stamps also are being collected to allow the Quaker organization to procure special supplies for refugees as needed.

The numbers fluctuate, but Botswana at any given time has some 4,000 to 5,000 refugees within its borders. This poor and underdeveloped country, almost totally dependent on South Africa economically, is put under additional strain by taking refugees. However, it is a tradition of the people of Botswana to accept into their midst people who come seeking refuge. Also Botswana, just north of South Africa, to the west of Rhodesia and east of Namibia is one of the Frontline States, opposing the white minority - controlled nations.

The AFSC shipment, the first such joint project with Church World Service, left the United States in October.

The refugees, some as young as 8 years old, sometimes arrive with only a few pieces of tattered clothing on their bodies. Those from Rhodesia are packed into two refugee camps, while the ones from South Africa are living elsewhere. Botswana also has refugees from Angola and Namibia, most of whom have been integrated into the local economy.

The AFSC shipment went to the Botswana Christian Council which is working along with the United Nations and other organizations to meet the needs of those who have fled from apartheid in South Africa and Rhodesia.

They are desperate for food, clothing and housing. As many as 35 to 45 men sometimes have to stay in a tumbledown farm house. Botswana doesn't have enough housing for its own people.

REV. LOUISE HARRIS
...places God first

Pastoring Is No Handicap, Female Minister Reports

By PAMELA ADAMS

Rev. Louise Harris will be celebrating her sixth Christmas as pastor of St. Mark A.M.E. Church, 480 Trevitt St.

One of the few women pastors in the major religious domination in Columbus, Rev. Harris was originally appointed to the pastorate of St. Mark's in October 1972. She was reappointed in October 1977 by the Bishop Vinton Anderson of the Third Episcopal District to serve another year with St. Mark.

A native of Detroit, Rev. Harris came to Columbus in 1969. She received her religious training from the Detroit A.M.E. Institute, the University of Dayton, St. Leonard University of Centerville and graduated from the Paine Theological Seminary of Wilberforce University.

The fact that she is a woman is not a handicap in her work as far as she is concerned.

"The role of the woman in this country in the working world always presents a challenge," she says. "Either you prepare yourself for the challenge or you don't do it."

She refuses to allow any special attention to be focused on herself simply because she is a woman.

"The A.M.E. has been ordaining women since 1946. It is to be that men and women work together; togetherness breaks down this competition and inferiority complexes between the sexes. We need to stop wasting time proving points and personal opinions and tend to the Father's business."

Wife and mother of three, Rev. Harris does not find it difficult to divide her time between her family and her congregation.

"When you place God first in your life," she says, "everything else falls into place. In the role of helping people, people have a way of respecting your time."

Rev. Harris tries to keep her sermons applicable to contemporary living. This Christmas, her Sunday School class will present a play entitled "Tribute to the Savior." Her Christmas message will be "Happy Birthday Jesus."

"Whatever I do," she explains, "I want to lead people to Christ and not myself. If a person prays more, has found hope and strength to hold on because he sees Christ in me and my ministry, then I feel that I am successfully doing my work as a minister. I am interested in the total and spiritual and physical growth of men and women. It pleases me to know that I have a part of that growth through Christ," Pastor Harris beamed.

'Devil Never Quits Working,' Ms. Reese, IMA Speaker, Says

By REV. CLARENCE
T.R. NELSON

"We are going to conquer Columbus by loving and the devil never quits working," declared Ms. Carol Reese, in speaking to the monthly meeting of the Columbus interdenominational Ministerial Alliance in Mt. Calvary Holy Church on Dec. 14, with the president, Rev. Rhenetta Davis, presiding.

Ms. Reese, Community Resources coordinator of the Fort Hayes Volunteer Services Center, said that if we have the parents behind the teachers it will help with discipline in the schools.

"We spend too much time talking about the buses...Judge Robert Duncan is a blessing in disguise," she declared. Elder Ronald McNabb, IMA chaplain, gave a helpful devotional address based on Psalm 121. He said all things work together for the good of those who believe in the Lord.

When the minutes of the last meeting were read, Elder McNabb said that the writer, who is recording secretary, had misinterpreted a statement that he made regarding two candidates for the Columbus School Board in the Nov. 8 election. We apologized for our misinterpretation.

Rev. Leon Troy, pastor of the Second Baptist Church, and principal speaker, showed a 10 minute film about volunteers who serve many organizations in the community.

Other speakers were Mrs. Essie Richardson of Roosevelt Junior High and Titus Saunders, principal of the school.

Rev. Alfreda Johnson made a report about the Emancipation Proclamation program to be sponsored by the IMA Jan. 8 at 4 p.m. at First Church of God, Wilson and Fair Aves. The speaker will be Dr. William Wayson, a member of the Ohio State University faculty. Rev. Dennis Houston is host pastor.

Rev. Merrill E. Nelson called attention to the Black History Banquet to be held Feb. 18 at 6 p.m. in the John Scales Building. He also emphasized the workshop about cancer to be held at the Union Baptist Church Jan. 7 from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

President Davis called attention to the news story and picture of former president Rev. Merrill E. Nelson, who was honored at the banquet sponsored by the Council of South Side Community Organizations at the South Side YMCA on Dec. 8.

Fr. David Francoeur introduced Fr. Albert Clappert of the Dominic Catholic Center, who made remarks and was the second Catholic priest to become a member of the IMA.

A Christmas card from Rev. Alfreda Johnson to the IMA was read and the meeting was adjourned at noon with prayer by Rev. Johnson.

SON OF GOD INCARNATE

But the King of Creation became the Babe of Bethlehem and linked Himself to humanity by ties that are never to be broken. We are given the good news that He "was made flesh, and dwelt among us." (John 1:14).

Although He came from above, He came not as one above us and beyond us, but to be one with us, so readily within our reach. Because Jesus became a man, God is not a long way off from men. Rather are deity and humanity drawn close together.

Nearly two thousand years ago, a voice of mysterious import was heard in heaven, from the throne of God, "Lo, I come." Sacrifice and offering Thou wouldst not, but a body hast Thou prepared Me." (in the volume of the Book it is written of Me) to do Thy will, O God." Hebrews 10:5-7.
